

CABINET MEMBERS PREPARE FOR OPENING OF SESSION OF PARLIAMENT DECEMBER 9

That Date Expected to Be Selected for Assembling of Legislators Chosen Throughout Canada in the Recent General Election; Premier King Will Be Back From Empire Conference by Then

AUTOMOBILE LEAPS TRESTLE TO CRASH SIXTY FEET BELOW

Woman Driver Escapes Death Miraculously When Car Lands on Wheels

Ottawa, Nov. 10.—The Cabinet, under the presidency of Hon. J. A. Robb, Acting Premier, is getting down to the business of preparing for the December opening of Parliament. The Ministers are nearly all in the capital and holding meetings daily, although Mr. Robb's only intimation of the work being done is that routine business is being disposed of.

It now appears that thirty days are not required for the summoning of the members to the opening of a Parliament. The members can be summoned on very short notice, and as a matter of fact no actual time limit exists. It is usual, of course, to give as much notice as possible for the convenience of the members and some announcement of the date is expected shortly.

December 9 is mentioned as the probable date. In that event, Premier King would arrive home from the Imperial Conference in London just in time to lead the Government in the House of Commons, although the preliminary work and the preparation of the Speech from the Throne would devolve upon the Cabinet, under Mr. Robb's leadership.

Plunging to a drop of nearly sixty feet through the railings of the trestle that crosses above the Canadian National Railroad's tracks on Douglas Street, Miss Ethel Corbett, driving a light delivery truck, narrowly escaped death this morning.

The vehicle which she was driving was demolished in the fall, hurtling through the air and tumbling over once, to land the right side up and on its wheels. Miss Corbett, who was driving, scrambled out of the wreckage unassisted, staggered to a resting place and collapsed.

She lost several teeth and suffered bruises and cuts of a minor nature. Talking a few minutes after the accident to Senior Constable Fred Cawsey, of Saanich, she informed him that something had gone wrong with her steering wheel and that she had been unable to avoid plunging through the railings of the viaduct along the C.N.R. tracks.

"It was a remarkable escape," said Senior Constable Cawsey. "The woman missed death by a miracle. Anyone who knows the sheer drop from the trestle to the railroad tracks sixty feet below, will realize just how miraculous was her escape. She was not even seriously injured."

Summoned to the scene of the accident about 10 o'clock this morning, Constable Cawsey raced to the spot on his motorcycle, expecting to find the mangled remains of the driver pinned beneath the wreckage of a demolished machine. The automobile, however, was sitting on its wheels, badly wrecked, but right side up. It rested across the railroad tracks. There was no sign of the driver. Later the officer found her, suffering from shock more than anything else.

Nurse Griffin, of the Saanich Health Centre, who had been making her morning calls, was already on the scene when the police officer arrived. Constable Cawsey paid her credit for her quick action in rendering the victim the smallest and immediate assistance. She was assisted by H. T. Lock, Saanich fireman, whose help was timely.

The cuping hole in the railing of the trestle over the railroad is evidence of the plunge of the automobile into the gulf below. Before noon, however, the wreckage was cleared from the track and the bridge was temporarily repaired.

ARREST OF SHIP IS RULED OUT BY JUDGE

Exchequer Court Ruling in Ss. Worow Case First of Kind in Canada

Vancouver, Nov. 10.—Differing from Mr. Justice Martin's judgment, Mr. Justice Audette of the Exchequer Court of Canada has held that the Administration of Justice Act, enacted by the British Parliament in 1925, is not applicable to Canada.

Mr. Justice Audette therefore has allowed the appeal of the British ship Worow, whose application to act as a tugboat in the Strait of Juan de Fuca had been refused in the court below.

The plaintiff company claimed $18,000 damages for breach of a charter party. It chartered the Worow, owned by the Orin Steamship Company Limited of London, at $11,500 a month for a return voyage from Vancouver to China. It alleged the voyage should have been on the composite great circle course to Japan, but instead of adhering to this route the Worow deviated and sailed to Honolulu, whereas the plaintiff company had been chartered to call at Dutch Harbor, in the Aleutians. The time and fuel needed for the deviation, about 1,500 miles, it was said, cost the charterers $18,000, which sum was claimed from the ship.

Sailing from Vancouver on November 11, 1925, the Worow arrived at Yokohama January 1, 1926. The voyage, which ordinarily would take twenty-six days, through deviation and delays, according to the plaintiff, occupied fifty days.

Heretofore actions for breach of charter parties have been against the ship's owners, but in this case the plaintiff invoked the Administration of Justice Act, 1925, which gave the British courts jurisdiction to hear a charterer's claim against the vessel.

FIRST RAISING OF ISSUE

The issue whether this statute applied to Canada was raised on the Worow's motion to set aside the arrest.

Mr. Justice Martin concluded British legislation, affecting the jurisdiction in admiralty of the High Court of Justice in England, by virtue of the Colonial Courts of Admiralty Act, 1920, which was adopted in Canada by the Admiralty Act, 1925, similarly affected the powers of Canada's admiralty courts.

Alfred Bull, counsel for the Worow, contended the Administration of Justice Act, 1920, did not extend to Canada.

Mr. Justice Audette has sustained this contention.

The Worow case, it is believed, for the first time throughout the Empire made a legal issue of the Administration of Justice Act, 1920.

Martin Griffin and Sidney Smith were counsel for the plaintiff company.

The appeal was argued here several months ago.

A further appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada from Mr. Justice Audette's decision is indicated.

Smallpox in Toronto

Toronto, Nov. 10.—Fourteen cases of smallpox were reported here in the last four days and the contagion has been spreading rapidly, according to officers of the city health department.

The first sufferer was found to be a boy employed in a local bowling alley, and every case reported has been traced back as having had contact with the ally.

ACTS AS IF MAD; GENERAL PANGALOS

London, Nov. 10.—Dispatches from the island of Crete received in Athens indicate the former Greek dictator, General Pangalos, for some time has been showing signs of mental derangement, says a dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph from Athens. Late in the dispatch adds, Pangalos has imagined he is Emperor of Byzantium and has demanded that he be taken to Constantinople.

In some quarters it is suspected he is simulating madness in the hope of obtaining lighter punishment.

The Government of General Pangalos was overthrown in August by the present Premier, General Kondylis, and Pangalos was sent to Crete.

ON APPEAL, B. C. MINIMUM WAGE ORDER IS UPHOLD

Lumbermen of Province Lose Second Round of Their Fight Against Forty-cents-an-hour Order of Board; Chief Justice Says Vancouver Magistrate Rightly Convicted Company; Appeal Is Planned

CHINAMAN CRASHES GORGE MOTOR BUS

Drives Log-carrying Truck Into Passenger Car on Gorge Road

Constable Cawsey of Saanich Police Was Called to Scene of Accident

Vancouver, Nov. 10.—British Columbia lumbermen lost the second round of their fight against enforcement by the Minimum Wage Board of its order fixing the minimum wage in that industry at forty cents an hour when Chief Justice Hunter here this morning upheld the conviction of the Robertson & Hackett Sawmills Limited in police court yesterday by Magistrate Shaw in the case brought by the lumbermen to test the validity of the board's act.

J. W. de B. Farris, K.C., applied for an order to quash the conviction on a stated case granted by Magistrate Shaw, Dugald Donaghy, appearing for the prosecution.

NO PRECEDENT EXISTED

Chief Justice Hunter pointed out there was no other case of the kind which might have assisted him. He explained J. W. de B. Farris, K.C., counsel for the appellant company, contended it was incumbent on the board before making any order to conduct a systematic inquiry into all industry. The Chief Justice stated he did not think that was a sound construction of the act, which intended the board should hold inquiries and make orders from time to time. Otherwise, if Mr. Farris's contention were upheld, the order of the board would be unworkable, he added. He dismissed the appeal.

ORDER NOT POSTED

The technical violation had been effected by failure of the Robertson & Hackett Sawmills Limited to comply with the order of the board to post a copy of the order in its mills.

"Was I right in holding the order of the board valid?" was the question put by Magistrate Shaw in his stated case, to which Chief Justice Hunter replied in the affirmative.

Mr. Farris contended the board's order affecting as it did only one line of industry, was simply an interim order, which it did not possess the right to enact. He argued the wrong was done at 25¢ per hour, included "every male" and not "any male," and also meant "every employer" and not "any employer."

ORIGINAL LEGISLATION

"Is this legislation original?" asked Chief Justice Hunter.

"I think it is original," replied Mr. Farris. "I don't think any other country on earth has such legislation."

"Not even Russia?" queried the Chief Justice.

"Russia would have more direct action, I think," said Mr. Farris.

It is understood that Mr. Farris the lumbermen were not bound to post notices as required by the act, and that the order of the board directing payment of the minimum wage in the lumber industry was invalid.

Dugald Donaghy represented the Crown under special instructions from Hon. A. Manson, Minister of Labor and Attorney General, appearing with Oscar Orr, assistant prosecuting officer of the City of Vancouver.

It is understood that Mr. Farris will now take immediate steps to bring the case before the Court, of Appeal.

QUEEN MARIE TO GIVE FEWER INTERVIEWS

Representative of Roumanian Premier Acts as Censor in United States

Denver, Nov. 10.—Nicholas Petresco, representing the Premier of Roumania, hereafter will supervise Queen Marie's conferences with press and other correspondents aboard her special train.

Mr. Petresco announced yesterday that in view of the political situation at home and the Government's injunction against the queen's granting interviews, he would be present at future press conferences. He said he also would undertake the duties of liaison officer, which heretofore had fallen to Major Stanley Washburn, special aide to the queen.

Queen Marie's train jogged along behind schedule yesterday because a cactus flower caught the queen's eye and the special was stopped while she looked about to find some of the blooms.

DENVER'S GREETING

Queen Marie's Special Train, at Denver, Nov. 10.—Denver gave Queen Marie of Roumania to-day, an enthusiastic welcome. A day-long programme of entertainment.

A battalion of troops of the 35th Infantry, with a band, led the royal party to the City Auditorium, where addresses of welcome were extended on behalf of the city and state, after the Queen and her retinue were received at the station by Governor Morley and Mayor Stapleton.

Governor Nellie Ross of Wyoming, who was the Queen's guest on the Casper-Denver lap of the trip, was a member of the official party.

After Queen Marie had expressed her delight at visiting the Mile High City, she was taken to the top of the Lookout Mountain for luncheon. A stop was made also at the grave of Buffalo Bill and at the Museum named for the famous frontiersman.

TWO LEAVE TRAIN

Miss Lois Fuller, former dancer and friend of Queen Marie, and Miss May Birkhead, her press agent, about whom much controversy has raged, left the royal train here to-day. Miss Fuller said it was necessary for her to be in New York immediately on business matters and a private car was placed at her disposal by Colonel John H. Carroll, in charge of Queen Marie's train.

Miss Fuller said she was leaving also in the interest of harmony aboard the train, adding that both Queen Marie and Colonel Carroll had advised her of their willingness to keep her on the train as their guest.

The conference will end to-night.

TOM MOORE STATES WORK REPORT NOT TRUE

Labor Leader Says London Paper Mistaken About Canadian Opportunities

Toronto, Nov. 10.—Replying to an editorial in The Morning Post of London, Eng., which claimed a surplus of British coal miners, being forced into a chronic state of unemployment, could be absorbed by a "vast new mining industry which has sprung up in Canada, comparative to South Africa," Tom Moore, president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, said:

"Those interests which advocate extensive migration from Great Britain to Canada should first find the work which is said to be abundant. Wage earners in Canada would like to be informed of the whereabouts of these jobs."

"The post states we have no role system in Canada and there is work, while there is a role system in Great Britain and no work," stated Mr. Moore. "It is wrong. We have a role system in Canada. By what other name can we call the thousands of dollars spent by federated charities in all large Canadian centres? In Great Britain there is an insurance fund, largely maintained by workers who draw allowances from it when out of work."

"This is no time to bring miners to Canada. An enterprise of this description might be of assistance in providing a supply of cheap labor. We wish the statement were true that there was work. If the London Morning Post knows where the work is, it might tell the unemployed of Canada."

POLICE WATCHING BIRD SANCTUARIES

Determined to Stamp Out Illegal Shooting on Preserves

Expressing a determination to stamp out shooting on bird sanctuaries, Provincial Police point out that the penalty for such illegal shooting is as high as $300 or six months imprisonment. Police are keeping a close guard on preserves in British Columbia and in every case where arrests have been made have pressed for heavy penalties.

On Vancouver Island Portage Inlet is being closely guarded and a young hunter who was out shooting at daybreak and was arrested by Provincial Constable Tait was charged before Magistrate George Jay in the Provincial Police Court this morning.

A fine of $15 and costs was imposed and a severe warning was given by the magistrate that after notification a heavier penalty would be handed out in future cases.

SCHOOL ALCOHOL REPORTS ARE DENIED

Witnesses Tell Commissioner in Ottawa Collegiate Students Not Notorious Offenders

Ottawa, Nov. 10.—Denial by the junior of one of the collegiate institutes that he had frequently found empty flasks in the basement after student dances and insistence by cadet and physical instructors that they had never known of drinking among the students featured this morning's session of the inquiry before Mr. Justice Orde into conditions in the collegiate institutes of this city.

Rev. Dr. Wyllie, who first brought the alleged unsatisfactory conditions before the public in speaking before the Presbyterian Synod, took a considerable part to-day in questioning the witnesses. He said there was "petty tyranny" practiced against any high school student whose relatives gave evidence derogatory to the collegiate and for this reason he asked that in such circumstances the witnesses' names be withheld.

Mr. Justice Orde allowed one woman witness to give evidence without her name being divulged, but was not favorable to a "business man" being allowed to give evidence in camera.

Carole Eggers, while denying he had ever found flasks after a dance at a collegiate institute, said he had found two empty bottles once, one of which was contained port wine, but he did not know what the other had contained. He was not sure whether these had been found the next day after a collegiate dance.

CANADA'S DEFENCES DECLARED ADEQUATE

Gen. McNaughton Tells Montreal Canadian Club Quick Training Possible

Montreal, Nov. 10.—Canada does not need a larger army, but she does need and has one which, when should the necessity arise, would be able quickly to train a citizen-army. The country's military task is not to create a fighting force at present, but to maintain the possibility of creating one.

This was explained to the Montreal Canadian Club to-day by Brigadier-General A. C. McNaughton, C.M.G., D.S.O., in an address on "Some Aspects of the Work of the Department of National Defence."

AMPLE WARNING

"Our territory is separated, except from the United States, with which Canada has been at peace for more than a hundred years, from other oceans across which no expeditionary force of dangerous strength could be transported without preliminary arrangements of such magnitude that they could not be kept secret. No such operation could be seriously contemplated until there had been a regrouping of overseas powers, the forces toward which would, it should be apparent a very long time in advance."

From that, General McNaughton said, it could be seen that what Canada needed was not a force of any kind immediately ready, but a large force in embryo.

This embryonic force was furnished by the Canadian militia.

Man Jailed For Beating Wife

Vancouver, Nov. 10.—Omission of a certain word from a charge of beating his wife, who was in a delicate condition, saved William Emery, thirty-five, an apartment house caretaker, from being sentenced to the jail. Magistrate J. A. Findlay said in the police court here to-day after finding him guilty and imposing a sentence of two years imprisonment. Emery is said to have whipped his wife with a looped piece of heavy insulated wire, raising welts from her waist to her ankles.

"Live" Parachute Jump Is Made By B.C. Station Airman

Vancouver, Nov. 10.—Dropping from 2,000 feet above Sea Island, Flying Officer A. J. Ashton, adjutant of the Jericho Beach Station of the Royal Canadian Air Force, made a "live parachute" jump.

A "live" jump is different from a "pull-off" jump in that the jumper allows himself to drop clear of the plane before opening his parachute. In a "pull-off" jump he stands on the wing of the plane and opens the silk, allowing himself to be pulled off.

Ashton made an excellent landing in a field on Sea Island, near Marpole.

Squadron Leader Tudhope was pilot of the seaplane.

The jump was made yesterday afternoon.

It has been announced that a reward of $25 has been offered by the Royal Canadian Air Force for the return of the parachute which was lost on October 25 when a seaplane plunged into English Bay.

SAANICH CONSERVATIVES HEATELY DEBATE LEGALITY OF DELEGATES

Majority Gives Endorsement to Proceedings at Emergency Meeting Held Last Thursday; President Stubbs and T. G. Coventry, M.P.P., Arouse Ire of W. O. Wallace

A crossfire of recrimination between President William Stubbs of the Saanich Conservative Association and W. O. Wallace, enhanced by contributions from T. G. Coventry, M.P.P., Alex Campbell, Capt. Corey Wood and others, marked the regular meeting of Saanich Conservative Association held at the Knights of Pythias Hall last night. The now famous meeting of last week, which supporters of W. J. Bowser for the leadership declare was engineered to elect delegates to Kamloops to support Leon J. Ladner as Tory chieftain, was discussed from many angles.

During the height of the controversy, Mr. Wallace declared a statement regarding campaign funds, made by Mr. Coventry, to be untrue, and later in the evening President Stubbs was warned by Mr. Wallace to expect reprisals for refusal to retract statements regarding him.

"You are all aware of the furore which has arisen regarding our special meeting of last Thursday night. I am going to deal with it," declared President William Stubbs, when calling to order the meeting.

After the minutes of the meeting of last Thursday had been adopted without protest, Mr. Stubbs stated he "would have no interference from Mr. Maitland in the affairs of this association. Up to next February I am running this association," he said.

Mr. Stubbs rigorously repressed an interrupter, with the promise that "those who have the right to speak will get their chance to talk after I am done."

TIMES PLAYS FAIR

He objected that disgruntled Conservatives make a practice of "running to The Times, the Liberal organ, every time they get defeated. I have no quarrel with The Times. They know their business and play fair. I ask the parties who talked to The Times to stand up."

None of those present arising, President Stubbs challenged W. O. Wallace, who at once arose and declared, "I am as good a Conservative as you, Mr. Stubbs. Who was it who poor I took Carter's Little Liver Pills for just one week. This certainly was a fine remedy for me. Treat a constipated condition in a sensible manner, cause the bowels to move daily free from pain. Carter's Little Liver Pills are for every member of the family. Small, sugar coated, easy to take. Drugists—25c and 75c red packages. (Adv.)"

PROTEST MEETING

Mr. Wallace protested that adequate legal notice had not been given of the meeting held last Thursday, and was told if a week's notice had been given, a majority would forget all about it. One day's notice in The Times was ample for the purpose.

Mr. Wallace considered President Stubbs' actions to have been unfair, and declared: "There is one thing I never did, I never stood up."

Marshall Gordon had been refused by Mr. Wallace. This was met with the assertion "that is a lie."

A chorus of protests against wrangling silenced the outburst. Capt. Corey Wood objected that the Lake Hill meeting had been illegal because a written request had not been served on President Stubbs by the group of seven members seeking the meeting.

"If we are going to have meetings like this, we are going to do harm," he warned, preferring that each of the seven voters be allowed to name one delegate, with the additional three accorded Saanich given to the more populous inner wards.

Mr. Stubbs pointed out that the workers interested, who attended meetings, were entitled to elect the delegates representing Saanich.

The President considered "a very small point" Capt. Wood's demand that a written request should have preceded action in calling the Lake Hill meeting. He also dealt with the instruction of the delegates to support Mr. Ladner for leadership, asking "if five delegates had voted for Mr. Ladner and five for Mr. Bowser, what good would it have done?"

Mr. Wallace protested, "we are only disrupting the Conservative party in Saanich. Public opinion is against us," and demanded that President Stubbs retract statements he had made earlier in the evening.

This being refused, Mr. Wallace promised "to take other means."

A number of resolutions were approved for submission to the Kamloops convention.

Ganges

Ganges, Nov. 10.—Mahon Hall was well filled Monday when Miss Theresa Siegel, dramatic reader, gave "The Fortune Hunter," under the auspices of the United Church.

Miss Theresa Siegel was wonderful in her reading of the three-act play and later, for the benefit of the children present, Miss Siegel gave "A Half-hour at the Beach with Mrs. Harkenspicke and Her Four Children."

Between acts, Miss Helen Dean and O. Stacey sang solos, with Mrs. Roy Campbell as accompanist. Tea was served by members of the Ladies' Aid.

A reception will be held on Friday afternoon at the Mahon Hall for Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Flinton.

Hugo Robertshaw, an old time resident of Salt Spring Island, passed away at the Gulf Islands Lady Minto Hospital early Tuesday morning. The late Mr. Robertshaw came from Brantford, England, and had resided on Salt Spring for about thirty years. Funeral arrangements will be made later.

A hockey match was played at the Mahon Hall grounds by Ganges and Victoria minor teams. Ganges won 5 to 1. L. Simpson was umpire.

Ganges, Nov. 9.—The military five hundred drive held on Friday evening at the Women's Institute Hall by members of the St. Mary's (Anglican) Church was a most enjoyable affair. After the cards, a dance followed. Miss Crossley, of Sidney, playing the piano, Frank Downy the drums. Between dances shares were sold for a fruit cake which weighed fourteen pounds three ounces and was won by Miss Betty Shaw. A currant cake was also put up for guessing how many currants were in the cake, and won by Miss Gladys Shaw. Mrs. Henry Ruckle donated a dressed turkey and it was won by Mrs. A. Eaton.

"A Treasure Hunt" then proved interesting. Peanuts had been placed over the hall, and the one finding the most peanuts won the pair of silver vases, but as Jimmy Akerman had had help in collecting peanuts, he put the vases up for auction, and Mrs. Davis secured them. The prize-winners for the first table were Mr. and Mrs. Mike Gyves, Father Sheelen and Mrs. Maxwell. The table winning second prizes consisted of Miss Gropp, Mr. Ray Morris, Mr. Jimmy Akerman and Billy Coopie.

RELINQUISHES ALL CONVENTION CLAIM

Real Estate Board to Drop 1927 Gathering if Promised
That of 1928

Having heard expressions of opinion of members to-day, the Victoria Real Estate Board relinquished all claim to a 1927 convention of the Pacific Northwest Realtors, providing the officials of the organization would pledge themselves to support Victoria as the 1928 convention city. Long discussion preceded this decision. The board listened to J. B.
Dougherty, superintendent of insurance for British Columbia, in this connection, and followed the general tenor of his suggestions.

Mr. Dougherty, who is credited with having been instrumental in bringing to Victoria the convention of the Pacific Northwest Realtors Convention for 1927, spoke of the work being accomplished in bringing about amendments in the Real Estate Agents' Licensing Act. Mr.
Dougherty stated that there were a number of "crises to be ironed out" in the Act and that this was progressing apace. Already much had been accomplished, he said.

CONVENTION PROBLEM
Afraid that the Pacific Northwest convention might detract from the National Convention of Realtors, there were officials who were trying to squash the plans for the gathering here next June. Oregon, who staunchly behind Victoria, in urging that the Pacific Northwest determine to keep the Victoria convention for June as the last convention decided.
Mr. Dougherty asserted that he wished to see Victoria get this convention and that the National convention should not be allowed to clash with it.

Speaking on this same subject, Fred Landsberg suggested that the midwinter convention in Tacoma should consider the matter. It had been originally planned to have the National and Pacific Northwest realtors as close together as possible.
Now it was necessary to see what the general opinion of Pacific Northwest realtors should be, said Mr.
Landsberg. The majority must decide and Victoria follow in line with them.

Alfred Carmichael declared that there was a possibility that a national convention in Seattle in 1927, and another Pacific convention in Victoria in 1928 might be a better plan, and just now, he thought, he favored such a decision.

Afternoon-Guthrie-Holmes agreed with Mr. Carmichael. He would pledge their support to Victoria as convention city in 1928. Victoria would relinquish claims to the 1927 gathering.

JAMES K. HACKETT, NOTED ACTOR, DIED

Succumbed to Heart Disease in Paris; Was Fifty-seven Years Old

Paris, Nov. 10.—The body of James K. Hackett, American actor, who died here yesterday, is to be cremated in Paris and the ashes taken to New York for interment in the family vault in Woodlawn Cemetery.
Mr. Hackett, who was long recognized as one of the foremost Shakespearean players of the time, died from heart disease after a long illness from an internal complaint.

Mrs. Hackett, who was Beatrice H.
Beckley of London, was at the bedside when death came.
Mrs. Hackett has received a great number of messages of condolence from personal friends and members of the profession.
Mr. Hackett's illness made him unable to make a schedule appearance to-day at a matinee attended by King George and Queen Mary in London. He was to have appeared in a scene from Macbeth for the all of the Shakespearean Theatre at Stratford-on-Avon to replace the one which was recently burned. The scene from Macbeth in which Mr.
Hackett was to have appeared was scratched from the programme.

FIFTEEN KILLED BY MARYLAND TORNADO

Eleven Children in School in Village of La Plata Lost
Lives Yesterday

Two Score Persons Injured;
Over Dozen Buildings
Blown Down

La Plata, Nov. 10.—This little town of 500 souls stopped in sorrow to-day to take up again the usually placid threads of its existence, which were sheared suddenly yesterday afternoon by the wrath of a tornado that wrecked havoc and destruction along a path at times 500 yards wide through a portion of Southern Maryland, killing fifteen and injuring two score, mostly children here, and severely injuring four more at Cedarville, fourteen miles northeast of here.

Sweeping up from out of the Potomac, the disturbance swooped and twisted intermittently, but concentrated its fury upon the schoolhouse here, where sixty-one pupils, teachers and attendants were gathered.
Eleven of the children were killed, and most of the others injured when the wood walls of the building were flattened.

"We must strength"

"Your illness is gone.
But it has naturally left you very weak and we must now build up your strength again. So I am going to put you on Wincarnis. That should quickly fix you up."

The doctor knows the importance of hastening convalescence. When our vitality is low, as it is bound to be after any wasting illness, we are an easy prey to any other lurking disease.

The degree of strength and vitality we enjoy is exactly in proportion to the amount of vital energy or power that is being produced within our bodies by the millions of tiny little cells—veritable little power-plants of which our tissues are composed.

To produce this vital power, these little power-plants require fuel. This fuel consists of certain mineral substances carried to these little cells by our blood. Normally our blood derives a sufficient quantity of them from the food we eat. But during illness the blood is unable to maintain the supply and our little cells being starved are forced to cut down their production of vital power.

It is in just such conditions that

WINCARNIS
A Power for Health

has proved a favourite prescription with thousands of physicians. Because Wincarnis contains the very mineral substances that are utilized by our little cells in producing vital power. And in Wincarnis, these minerals are scientifically combined with other beneficial ingredients in a form in which they are easily absorbed by the blood.

If you have been left weak and exhausted by any disease, take WINCARNIS and see how quickly your strength will return.

B.C. PREPARES FOR FINAL ARGUMENT ON RATES NOVEMBER 30

Rail Board Called to Meet and Hear Complete Summary of Case

British Columbia's demands for lower freight rates will be summed up for final decision before the Railway Board at a meeting in Ottawa on November 30.

At this conference, arrangements for which were announced to-day, the board will hear arguments on all the evidence collected during a tour of the province this year. On the evidence then gathered and the summaries presented by the representatives of all parts of Canada the board will work out a complete new freight rates structure which, it is hoped here, will give British Columbia a lower schedule of rates generally.

G. G. McGeer, Government rate counsel, who has fought British Columbia's case so far, will represent the Province again before the board and to show that the present schedule is discriminatory and utterly unjust. To support this contention Mr. McGeer will have evidence gathered by the board during its sittings in the interior on the mainland coast and on Vancouver Island last summer.

The hearing which will start on November 30, considered by far the most important held by the Railway Board since the long nationwide controversy on rates got under way with the application of the Oliver Government for more favorable treatment in transportation matters.
The British Columbia authorities are confident that in the board's new schedules of rates for the country as a whole this Province will receive substantial reductions from the present schedules.

The Ottawa hearing involves every phase of the case, including rates from one part of this Province to another, transcontinental rates and rates on commodities exported from here. This practically every business in the Province is vitally concerned in the board's findings.

Whether the board will also consider express rates is not clear. As British Columbia's original application for lower express rates was heard three years ago when some of its present members were not on the panel, it is considered likely that this case will have to be started afresh from the beginning and argued again as distinct from the freight rate question.

This Province contends that existing express rates are just as unfair as the present freight rates or even more so, and that they seriously interfere with many important branches of business dependent upon express for the transportation of their products.

BOWSER FORCES SWEEP TWO CITY WARDS; TRIAL OF SAANICH AND OAK BAY CHARGES ORDERED

Capt. George Black, M.P., elect for the Yukon, leader of the recent campaign in the Far North and R. L. Maitland, president of the British Columbia Conservative Association, confessed his present position was "no bed of roses."

BOWSER IS CONFIDENT
Mr. Bowser, the last speaker, was greeted with an ovation which lasted for two or three minutes before he was allowed to begin. He recalled that he was thirty-five years since he had attended his first annual meeting of the Vancouver Conservative Association and looking around now he saw some present who were on that occasion.

"To-night we are showing our Liberal friends we have unity," he said.

In the recent Federal campaign, he said, he had gone all over the Province and everywhere he had found people more interested in Provincial than Dominion politics. Eighty per cent of the people were opposed to the Oliver Government and wished for a change.

"We must organize, as General Mc-Rae has said, and he is an adept at organization," he declared, "so that we will be ready at a moment's notice."

He paid a tribute to General Mc-Rae for his story over G. G. Mc-Geer, K.C., in North Vancouver, and concluded with his reference to the Kamloops convention.

He have four or five speakers the more popular he is likely to be," he said. "I want to be popular to-night, for you have already heard it mentioned that there is to be a convention at Kamloops. I can go further and tell you my name will be before that convention."

Ward Three Conservatives last night chose their delegates for the Kamloops convention as follows: Mrs.
Randall, C. H. Revercomb, J. P. Parnell, E. F. Gould, D. B. Plunkett, Hugh McDonald and L. Savage.

Ward Four Conservatives chose their delegates as follows: M. P. Gordon, A. J. Helmcken, John Day, L.
Tait, E. B. Andros, J. Huxtable and J. J. Bothwell.

The substitute in case of a vacancy will be Arthur Inglis.

The instructions issued for voting on the leadership candidates were not disclosed.

Logging Engineer Secures Divorce

Absolute decree of divorce was granted by Mr. Justice Morrison in the Divorce Court this morning to Hubert C. Hall, logging engineer, 724 Vancouver Street, from his wife Margaret Hall, now living in Vancouver.
Gordon Trevor Rant was named co-respondent.

G. H. Sedger appeared for the petitioner. M. B. Jackson, K.C., watched the case for co-respondent. Joint custody was given of two children, girl of fourteen and a boy of eleven.
The action was undefended.

DEATH SENTENCE FOR PHILIP GOODWIN

California Judge Sets January 14 at San Quentin For Penalty For Murder

J. J. Patterson, Los Angeles
Broker, Killed; Goodwin
Asked New Trial

Santa Ana, Cal., Nov. 10.—Sentence of death was pronounced on Philip Goodwin, former resident of Victoria, B.C., and priest of the "American Catholic Church" here yesterday for the killing of J. J. Patterson, a Los Angeles bond broker, of whose murder he was convicted last week.

Superior Judge S. J. Marks, despite an impassioned plea by Goodwin for a new trial on the ground that new evidence had been found, sentenced him to be hanged at the penitentiary at San Quentin, California, January 14.

Counsel for Goodwin presented a written argument for a new trial, after which Goodwin addressed the court.

The former priest told Judge Marks he could produce witnesses who saw him in San Diego on the evening of March 14, a few hours before the state alleged Goodwin, assisted by Albert Dewey Gaines, waylaid the broker and beat him to death in a lonely canyon north of here.
Goodwin declared he had seen J. A.
McKenzie, a vaudeville actor, at San Diego but that McKenzie was now in the East. He had just recently learned his address, Goodwin said.

GAINES CONFESSED
Patterson's body was found several weeks after death had occurred.
The body was exhumed from a Santa Ana cemetery months later, when relatives voiced suspicions of foul play. Witnesses declared they had seen the former priest with Patterson just before he disappeared and Goodwin was arrested and brought here from New York. Gaines, apprehended in Montana, confessed to having had a part in the killing.
Gaines said, implicating Goodwin. The confession, however, was not used in Goodwin's trial.

Gaines is facing a charge of murder, but has not yet had his preliminary hearing.

The trial was one of the most sensational ever held in Orange County.

CHARGE OF MURDER HEARD IN WINNIPEG

Admission W. Bonnin Made
After Bank Hold-up Last
May Put in Evidence

Winnipeg, Nov. 10.—A statement made by Wilford Bonnin, in which he admitted he had killed Maurice Garvie, a bank clerk, during an attempt to hold up a branch bank here last May 28 has been admitted as evidence during Bonnin's trial here on a charge of murder. Bonnin's statement, taken by Detective Melville, immediately after Bonnin's arrest and while he was hovering between life and death as a result of wounds received in a battle with the police, read:

"The bank clerk was killed because he didn't put up his hands. It was a case of a life for a life, and while I am sorry I killed him, he should have known I meant business and did what I told him."

CAPTURED AFTER FIGHT
Other evidence at the trial to-day described the attempt to rob the bank, Bonnin's flight, and his subsequent capture after a battle in a rooming house where he had taken refuge and during which two detectives were wounded.

Detective Smith testified Bonnin had remarked just before he was shot down: "It's all over now, boys, but the necktie party. I am badly wounded."

Bonnin, who is permanently incapacitated by his wounds, was brought into court in a wheel chair.
The prosecution expects to complete its case to-day.

NEXT YEAR'S CELEBRATION

IF ALL THE DETAILS OF THE PROGRAMME suggested by the Association of Canadian Clubs for the celebration of the Diamond Jubilee of Confederation shall be carried out, the week in which Dominion Day will fall next year should be a memorable one indeed. The presence in the country of the King and Queen and representatives from other parts of the Empire and from France and the neighboring republic on such an occasion would impart especial interest to it.

The idea of employing the moving picture to illustrate the events which led up to Confederation is an excellent one in many respects. Too few of the Canadian people are familiar with the country's history, particularly before and immediately after the union. These pictures would be of absorbing interest and their instructional value would not be limited to this country. The story of self-government in Canada has a direct application to all the Dominions, since Canada was the pioneer and the exemplar of this system. There are many ways of preaching Canadianism; but the pictorial method is easily one of the most effective.

An issue of commemorative postage stamps is likewise a good idea. Many incidents of historical significance to this Dominion could be portrayed in this way. In any case it is not too early to start the arrangements for a memorable celebration next July.

TOO MUCH REGULATION

THE MANITOBA FREE PRESS is pleading for an immigration policy which shall not be hampered by a lot of stupid regulations. It complains that individual cases that have required special treatment too frequently have been converted by officials of the Department into hard and fast precedents to be followed rigidly. Much of this unsatisfactory state of affairs it considers has been brought about through treating this important portfolio as if it could be administered as a part-time job. It hopes, however, that Mr. Forke's recent pronouncement on the subject of getting more people to this country presages a thorough overhauling where bundles of "red tape" are clogging machinery which should be running smoothly and efficiently.

Our Winnipeg contemporary puts its contention forward as a case for prompt action by the Dominion authorities. The London Morning Post has taken a whack at the British Government. In an editorial the other day it remarked that in Great Britain there is a dole and no work and in Canada work and no dole. Then it pointed out that "a vast new mining industry has sprung up in Canada in a few years comparative to South Africa's, but both the machinery and labor, used are largely American." This reminder that British capital and British labor are losing opportunities that are being snapped up by other people is followed by the suggestion that "the antiquated basis of official schemes laid down in the hungry 'forties' ought to be replaced 'by a genius altogether outside political and official departments.'"

To say that Canada's most pressing need is more population is to repeat the obvious. Mr. Forke knows this and everybody else knows it. Can the genius mentioned by The Morning Post be found? The Minister of Immigration advocates a policy which would admit every white person who is sound in mind and body and willing to work hard. How far has this principle been applied hitherto? Mr. Forke ought to be able to find that out fairly easily by consulting the records, and he ought to be able to determine how far the regulations in force have impeded the influx of settlers. The nature of the information he gathers should direct him in the formation of his own policy. The Manitoba Free Press is convinced that cumbersome regulations have been much to blame in the past and it suggests that Mr. Forke might make his investigation both on this continent and on the other side of the Atlantic.

THE SUPER-DICTATOR

THERE SEEMS TO BE NO LIMIT TO which Premier Mussolini will not go to preserve the form of government of which he is the originator. Three years ago the world stood aghast at the extraordinary methods which he employed to strengthen his position as dictator; but they look like mere imitations of Fascist radicalism when compared with laws recently passed.

It was not enough for Mussolini to "suppress" all those who opposed him and his policies, to bend the whole of the press to his will, to abolish local administration, to select all candidates for parliamentary election from the ranks of the faithful, to assume the administration of no less than seven portfolios himself; he must now unseat the whole of the Opposition in the Chamber of Deputies and pass a law that prescribes long terms of imprisonment for all who are antagonistic to his regime.

Nowhere in the world except in a Latin country would such a condition of government be tolerated for an instant. For the moment, of course, Mussolini and his methods seem to be popular. The populace go wild every time he appears among them. When the measure to unseat the Opposition went through yesterday nothing short of pandemonium reigned in the Chamber. He is looked up to as a miracle man. But what will happen when stern economic realities press upon the Government? How will the Deputies who now abase themselves before him behave when economies which will then become necessary reduce their perquisites? This reckoning will come.

Not even Italy will be content with the peculiar domination of this magic personality indefinitely. The liberty for which they have made great sacrifices is fast ebbing away from them. What remains will disappear if the history of the last four years denotes anything at all. How long will it be before another liberator rises up in his wrath—a "red-shirt" to remove the yoke of the "black-shirt"?

CANADA IS WELL OFF

DEALING WITH THE RETURN OF FOREIGNERS from the United States to this country, noting also that an increasing number of American farmers are trekking northward with money and stock with the intention of settling in the Canadian West, an Indiana magazine says to the youth of this Dominion that "far-off fields may look green, but they are not always as green when you get there, and it is doubtful if any other farming country offers more for the labor of the husbandman than the western plains of Canada."

This American journal knows whereof it speaks, and its comments should be noted by Canadians. The following extract from the Canadian Journal of Commerce likewise contains some wholesome truths:

Peace in Canada? If ever there was a country in the world to justify and repay the faith of her sons and daughters, surely that country is our own. With her vast resources of field, forest, mine, water, and sea; with her giant systems of railway and water transportation, commanding gateways of the Atlantic and Pacific alike; with a geographical situation uniquely favorable to trade with the populous markets of Western Europe and the Orient; with her people sprung from the sturdiest and most splendid stock of which the world holds record; linked, as she is, with that mighty and majestic yet motherly land which has learned, as has no other in human history, the secret of combining strength with progress and liberty with law, with a friendly nation of some 100,000,000 speaking the same language and holding to similar customs, as her neighbor to the North, and with sound institutions of government—the Dominion, beyond all question, is fronting a career in which the period of her economic youth, growth and prosperity has a long and a promising course to run.

Happily for this country, and fortunately for those who might otherwise be attracted by what may look to them like easy money in the United States, the obvious prosperity which Canada is enjoying has proved that the grass is as green at home as it is anywhere else—and greener than in many parts of the world. Every Canadian can stay at home with profit to himself if he is made of the right sort of stuff.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

FORGET POLITICS

From The Farmer's Advocate

Canadians would do well to forget politics for a while and settle down to industry and progress. The crying need now is honest, steady administration of the country's affairs, a stronger morale and confidence in the future. Production in Canada is abundantly sufficient to warrant better times for all. Politics should not be allowed to suppress prosperity.

Queer Quirks of Nature

By ARTHUR N. PACK

Tree frogs of various genera are to be found in most countries of the world and are considered by many naturalists the most interesting group of tailless, batrachians. Certainly they are the most beautiful.

Any attempt to pick out the most graceful of these creatures would be challenged by the champions of other claimants. Putting aside as frivolous the suggestion that the judgment of Paris would be in favor of the golden apple might well be awarded to the Arum—frog—or Ruppia holostictus. This entrant for frog honors may be found on parts of the Cape Flats of South Africa.

A Beautiful Frog
Though frequenting grasses, reeds and low bushes near ponds or rivers, its typical site is in the arum bloom. Its usual position is down in the bloom. Its color in this position being ivory-white, its pink legs and sucker-provided feet being tucked right up under it, a casual glance into the bloom might pass it over.

In darker surroundings its color approaches that of Jacobean oak, the change being a skin, rather than a slight, reflex.

The male has a very dilatable vocal sac, the voice being a loud "Chee, chee, chee." The eggs are laid in clusters of about twenty attached to the roots of water weeds or the stems of grasses.

Tree frogs often resemble their chosen surroundings and possess a remarkable ability to assume colors that match their habitats. Our common American species is so like the gray bark of the oak or maple that even the one trilling on the lawn may elude all our efforts to detect him at his musicale.

'TO PLAY ONE'S LAST TRUMP'

"TO PLAY ONE'S LAST TRUMP"

Most successful attorneys hang on to a bit of choice evidence such as a tell-tale photograph or an incriminating letter until near the end of a case when they can play that last trump most effectively even though all the other cards have been stacked against them. To "play one's last trump" means to "reduce to one's last expedient." It is obviously adopted from card playing. The word "trump," so used, is from the French "trionphe" (triumph).

A.—Sam Slick was the pen name of Judge Halliburton of Windsor, Nova Scotia, who wrote many humorous books over a generation ago, and which are still popular. SAANICH POLITICS

To the Editor:—Politics, religion and loganberry juice are either one good at any time to stir our deepest emotions. Saanich, can I provide them all, and for the moment she is mightily "hot up" over the first. A genial application of the last named would do much to calm the present troubled waters. The largely attended meeting of Saanich Conservatives last night in the K. of P. Hall was valuable for one thing arising unexpectedly. The speaker at the time, the writer, but not for publications unless the owner wishes. The Editor is not responsible for the return of letters. No responsibility is assumed for the return of letters. out the voice of the caller reaching the called. Now, of course, there is no limitation as to the means of calling—of publication. There are lots of ways of doing that. In olden days they did it with the "Flery Cross." Old country folk are familiar with the time-honored method of sending round the town crier with his bugle, bell or tuck of drum. Modern days have brought the penny post and post card. Then there is newspaper advertising, and perhaps best of all the telephone and radio. In the present case there was an actual attendance at this wonderful meeting of close on sixty people, and yet only one of these means was actually adopted—by a short and in columns of The Times. If all of these sixty Saanich Conservatives got their call from that it is most flattering advertisement for the paper. But per contra the benighted Conservatives of the rural wards do not appear to have noticed it. No one has been found to date in at least one ward who noticed this publication. One cannot overlook the claims of the telephone as a useful and expeditious way of effecting this publication. But then it costs ten cents to call up rural Saanich. It is an easy to advise your friends of a nice little social evening over the telephone and let it go at that. When one considers the importance to the Conservative party of the matter to be dealt with, it is hardly reconcilable with business methods to effect publication of a Conservative meeting either by notice in The Times or over the telephone.

AN APPRECIATION

To the Editor:—I shall be glad if you will kindly give me a little space to record my appreciation of the many kindnesses I have experienced in a brief stay in the Britannia Hotel of the Canadian Legion (late G.W.V.A.).

The officials of this branch have been always very ready to afford me their aid in any matter, in fact they have even gone out of their way to do so. The last matter taken up, on my behalf, is one that I am very grateful for because I have been now reimbursed for my traveling expenses when sent to the Coast, money which I never expected to elicit. I am a 100 per cent disability case myself and would take this opportunity of urging all my old comrades to join a branch of the Canadian Legion of the British Empire Service League. They may not need the backing of the league, but we who have fallen by the wayside do still need their help.

TRANSPORTATION WANTED

To the Editor:—Twelve ex-Service men, including a slightly disabled old Crimian veteran, would be able to attend the memorial ceremony tomorrow morning if cars were available. The Crimian veteran said he would like to go, but am too feeble to do so unless I get a car ride. Any citizen desirous of providing transportation is requested to please Dr. Pearce at the Jubilee Hospital.

KNIGHTS TALK ON WORLD OF FINANCE

Money is Foundation of Civilization, But Trade Balance More Than Gold

"Money" and the world's problems of barter and trade, were the topics of discussion which H. D. Patterson followed in his address last night to the Knights of Ye Round Table, at the Empress Hotel. He pictured a world where coinage was unknown. Should the standard by which the world measured the value of things be lost, he said, there would be a sorry ruin follow in its wake. The fight for food would turn back hundreds of years, to primitive times, when men traded an ox for the grain from which to grind their flour. Money, it seemed to the speaker, was the foundation of civilization. It gauged the value of human service, as well as life's incidents.

Nerves Broken by Overwork

Was weak, nervous, sleepless. Restored by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

The restorative power of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is truly remarkable as is proven by the experience of the writer of this letter. And yet this is only the usual experience of people who put Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to the test. Miss Jennie Kent, 180 Northumberland St., Brantford, Ont., writes: "The strain of nursing my mother through a long illness left me in a weak, run down condition which affected my nerves. I had severe pains in the nerve centres of my arms and limbs which often kept me awake for hours at night. I also had a heavy dragging pain across my back and felt all the time as if I would not be able to keep on much longer. A treatment of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has removed these symptoms, however, and built me up wonderfully." (Adv.)

It even gauged life itself, in a broad sense.

GOLD RESERVES
E. D. Johnson, Deputy Minister of Finance, who has made a close study of the financial problems of the world, and the particular subject under discussion last night, spoke briefly of the gold reserves of the world. In United States, the gold reserve in 1913 had been $26,000,000. Great Britain's gold reserve had grown during the same period from 170 million sterling to $26,000,000. It is estimated that gold reserves were not as important as a trade balance and pointed out United States' unwieldy load of gold had hurt her trade.

ROBERT CONNELL HEARD IN ADDRESS BEFORE BURNS CLUB

Dealt With Hugh Miller and Robert Dick in Interesting Talk

Robert Connell, whose writings on natural history and geology have been a wide following, was the speaker before the Victoria Burns Club last night at the Chamber of Commerce. John Hosie presided. The next regular session will take place December 14, when Capt. A. M. Boyd will speak on "Tom Hood."

Taking for his subject the lives of two well known Highland men, who rose from humble surroundings to supreme heights in their chosen field, Mr. Connell held the attention of his hearers throughout an interesting discourse. Hugh Miller, geologist, commenced his career as a stone mason from Cromarty, turning to practical account his apprenticeship in that calling, and closing a brief life of great achievement by premature death in his early prime.

Robert Dick, naturalist, was a baker by calling, turning early to a love of nature and studying the manifold lessons of that great teacher to be seen on every hand. He rose to a position of command in the ranks of the Victoria Burns Club, and like Hugh Miller, died in the prime of life.

Mr. Connell told many intimate chapters of family surroundings of the two men to his audience, presenting his material in a way that called forth a hearty vote of thanks at the close of the address. John Hosie proposed the vote of thanks to the speaker, generous response being accorded to the measure.

School Children Inspect Plant of Hand Weaving Firm

A party of children from the North Ward School yesterday visited the plant of the Western Carding and Woolen Company at 2008 Government Street, to learn something of the hand-weaving and hand-spinning. The children showed great interest in the various phases of the industry of making handspun materials and spent the best part of an hour inspecting the plant.

The Western Carding and Woolen Company is an ex-service men's firm and has been in operation for over two years.

OAK BAY COUNCIL WILL FILL THREE SEATS IN JANUARY

Oak Bay Experiences Year of Steady Growth, With Considerable Building

Retiring Members of Council Likely to be Returned

Three members of the Oak Bay Council, elected at the head of the polls in January, 1925, for the two-year term, will vacate their seats at the end of this year, Councillors E. C. Hayward, Thomas Ashe, and C. F. L. Money. Though election announcements in Oak Bay are not usually advanced until well on in December, with polling in January in the year following, it is unofficially understood all three members may be in the field again.

MONEY TO STAND

Councillor Money has signified his intention to stand for re-election. Councillors Hayward and Ashe, both chairmen of standing committees in Oak Bay, are being pressed to continue in office.

Councillor Hayward, chairman of the finance committee, is one of the senior members on the council and has for many years been one of the leading figures in Oak Bay municipal affairs. Councillor Ashe is chairman of the works committee, the other standing committee, and in that capacity has won the support of his colleagues on the council.

Councillor A. D. Crease, who with Mr. Hayward has been long identified with the work of the Oak Bay Council with Councillors W. H. Moors and T. J. Goodlake, was elected to the two-year term in January of this year, all three members having another year to serve.

NEWS IN BRIEF

The court of revision on the civic voters list will convene at the City Council Chamber on November 26, at 10 a.m.

The local branch of the Army and Navy Veterans will hold its regular monthly meeting in the club rooms on Friday night at 8 o'clock.

Ward One Saanich Ratepayers' Association will hold a meeting in the Cedar Hill School on Friday at 8 p.m. to endorse a candidate for councillor.

There will be two services of Holy Communion at St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, to-morrow. The first will be at 8 a.m. and the second at 10.30 a.m.

The regular meeting of the city school board will be held this evening at the City Hall. The session is called for 8 o'clock, with a half agenda of business for consideration.

At the regular meeting of the Victoria branch of the Canadian Guild of Health next Friday, Dr. A. O. MacRae, of Vancouver, assistant warden of the Guild, will give an address on the work of the organization. The meeting will commence at 8 o'clock in the old church school room on Quadra Street.

Fire engines of the city will be equipped with red spot lights to aid in clearing their path at night when responding to an alarm. The City Council last night adopted a recommendation by the fire wardens to that effect. The report of Chief Stewart on the Fresno convention of Fire Chiefs, held in October, was received by the council and contained useful data on modern fire fighting methods.

Aid in determining what effective means are available to stop the cinder nuisance from sawmill areas will be sought from the Provincial Government. It was determined by the City Council last night. Meanwhile no action will be taken against mill-owners, it is inferred, though the decision to proceed with prosecution was not withdrawn.

The British Columbia Electric Railway Company will be notified that the breaking down of the Hillside water main is still taking place and asked to remedy the defect, the City Council decided in session last night. The new main now being installed would be subject to the same trouble, the city is advised by its technical experts, unless a different method of treating the trouble is found.

Draughtsmen at the City Hall to-day were working on a project to round off the corner of Woodlands Road and Fairfield Road, to remedy an intersection where a dangerous turn exists at present. The intersection is one the Foul Bay street car line at a point where considerable traffic passes. Work of replacing the narrow angle by an easy curve will be undertaken next week.

Mrs. C. E. Wilson will formally open the annual bazaar which the Women's Auxiliary to St. Joseph's Hospital will hold at that institution to-morrow afternoon, commencing at 2.30. There will be many attractive stalls and afternoon tea will be served. Bridge tables may be re- ceived with Mrs. R. L. Miller, the game commencing at 2.30. ACTION BASED ON BUILDING CONTRACT

Victoria Realty Company Plaintiffs in County Court Suit

The sum of $341 is claimed by the Victoria Realty Company from A. W. B. Jones on a con- tract entered into on August 17, 1925, in an action proceeding before His Honor Judge Lam- pan in the County Court.

N. W. Whittaker appears for the plaintiff and D. S. Tait for the de- fendant. Defendant claims the final payment for a five room bungalow, built under the supervision of the Realty Company, was covered by a settlement which he alleges was ac- cepted.

Fred G. Purser, partner in the Victoria Realty Company, on the stand this morning said his company arranged to build for defendant a five-room bungalow on Michigan Street. They were to receive five per cent. of the net cost. They also contracted to secure a $2,000 mort- gage. The building, started in August, was completed in November of last year. His firm received $81 from defendant early in the contract and then nothing further until it was completed. The firm carried the financing.

TAGORE'S MESSAGE

Lecturing at a public meeting of the Victoria Theosophical Society, independent, on Sunday evening, Mr. Arthur J. Wedd claimed Tagore's message to the world to be a spiri- tual one.

Touching upon Tagore's work in philosophy literature and poetry, Mr. Wedd gave much attention to the prose poem of this great poet of India.

Under the simple imagery he found a profound symbolism conveying great spiritual truths. The child- ishness of the world with its care for shells and pebbles, while leaving the great realities of life unsought was drawn from one of the simplest poems. In others Mr. Wedd revealed much beauty and everlasting truth reminding his audience that Tagore's message was again Plato's "The Good, the Beautiful, the True."

Tagore's optimism was reviewed in the fact that men are gods in the making and that all creation repre- sents the evolution of consciousness.

Dr. A. T. Barton will deliver a lec- ture to-night (Wednesday) in the New Thought Temple on Pandora Street. The subject will be, "Are We at the Beginning or End of Civilization?"

BUSIEST WOMAN IN VICTORIA TELLS OF HER DAY'S WORK

Victorian Order Nurse Describes Her Adventures Among City's Ailing

Who is the busiest woman in Victoria? No doubt there are many willing to lay claim to the title but few would deserve it more justly than a member of the Victorian Order of Nurses, that wonderful public health nursing organization which labors day in and night out for the welfare of the community.

A local nurse described her day recently, one of a thousand other similar days, and here it is, in her own words:

"Starting at 8.30 a.m., my first patient is a mother with her first baby, a healthy boy, who is just beginning his second day. We have visited this mother for the last four months, so are interested in her welfare. We saw that she put herself in touch with her doctor early in pregnancy, (this is an important part of our prenatal instruction), also that she had everything ready for baby's arrival, so that when the time comes, conditions will be as ideal as circumstances will permit.

"After looking at the chart to see if the doctor had left any special orders, I take temperature, pulse and give the usual general care. The room is nice and warm so I arrange a table near to mother's bed in order that she can watch me bath the baby. In this way she is instructed from the start how to take care of this precious member of the family.

"My next patient is a new one. Special treatment has been ordered daily and she is not feeling very cheerful. Her husband is an invalid, and she has been going out to work by the day. While attending to her I find there is urgent need for assistance, and on leaving shall report her case to the proper quarter. My next call is to see an advanced cancer case. We have been attending him for a long time; he looks forward to our visits, and we always come away feeling that we shall miss him very much when the time comes for his departure. Doing the dressing, we chat about things that are happening in the city, and think of all the little bits of daily life.

"While there, an urgent telephone call from the office is received. Robert doesn't want his breakfast, and complains of headache. He is injured in the Metropolitan Life, so stepping on the gas I hustle over to James Bay to find Robert with a temperature of 103, and a slight rash, so I tell mother to call her doctor as soon as possible and in the meantime keep the child warm and other children out of the room. I promise another visit later if there is anything ordered.

"A sinking feeling warns me that it is lunch time. During the lunch hour there are telephone calls to attend to doctors to report, to reports to be written, etc.

"After lunch, my first call is at the home of a T.B. case. This has just been diagnosed, and the doctor has advised the family to call up the V.O.N. We have a talk about general precautions, and as the house is small, clean, a patient in the garden, and get out together to choose the most favorable spot.

"Ringing in to the office I am told an urgent case has come in from Oak Bay district, a child with convulsions, and the doctor wants treatment given at once. (These are occasions where the cars are invaluable.) After the child is relieved and settled down I instruct the mother how to carry on till our next visit.

"While on that street I remember a child we were attending some time ago. I find he is well and strong again. While chatting with the mother she tells me that in a few months she will be needing us again. We have a helpful talk, and we shall keep in touch with her. Her eldest daughter is attending the healthy hygiene classes in connection with the C.I.T., held by the V.O.N.

"Next on the list is an elderly lady with bronchial asthma. A sponge bath is given, and a promise of a visit the next day. We talk for a few minutes about operations, and other things dear to her kindly heart.

"I call on my way home to see if the mother of a delicate baby is carrying out the instructions given by her doctor, and help her a little in the preparation of the baby's food. We have visions of a healthy child in the near future. When I reach home, the report of the day's work is written and bags gone through and made ready for the next day.

"The local branch of the V.O.N. has just issued an interesting year book descriptive of its work in Victoria and of the larger work of the Order throughout Canada. This interesting brochure was compiled by S. M. Carter of 393 Central Building.

THE STORY OF JOSEPH MARTIN

Feels Like a New Man Since Taking "Fruit-a-tives"

The story of Mr. Joseph Martin of St. Ursula, P.Q., reads like a modern miracle. His was an unusually bad case of indigestion. In his own words he writes: "For about ten years I could not digest my food. For a year I could not work, I had no strength and I could hardly eat. I was like dead. Now I work and eat as much as I like and feel like a new man. Your Fruit-a-tives have relieved me completely, and I would have died without your remedy. I am thankful to you, as you have saved a martyr of dyspepsia." (Signed) Joseph Martin.

THREE GOVERNMENT BOATS IN TO-DAY

Canadian Farmer, Skirmisher and Prospector Arrive

Three Canadian Government Merchant Marine vessels have docked at the Outer Wharves here during the last twelve hours. The first to arrive was the Canadian Farmer, which nosed her way in at 3 o'clock this morning. She was followed by the Canadian Skirmisher at 6:30 o'clock. This afternoon at 3 o'clock the Canadian Prospector arrived.

After discharging cargo destined for this port from San Francisco the Farmer cleared for Vancouver early this morning.

The Skirmisher will take out a large cargo of lumber for the United Kingdom. She is now taking on this load at the dock and will leave for the Old Country after the completion of loading.

The Canadian Prospector brought a cargo from Montreal for discharge here. After unloading this consignment she will clear for Vancouver.

YELLOWSTONE PARK TRAFFIC SHOWS BIG INCREASE FOR YEAR

Yellowstone National Park this year enjoyed the best tourist season that it has ever experienced, according to figures given out by the Northern Pacific Railway Company. The total number of persons visiting the park during 1925 was 187,897, the figures show. This was a gain of 33,525 persons over the previous year, when 154,372 people were counted. The traffic of 1925 was the highest previous record.

Automobile traffic was also, naturally, on the increase. Exactly 44,472 automobiles entered the park during this year.

Looking over the number of people who visited the park from the Pacific Coast as compared with those who came from the East, it is noticeable that the latter are much in the majority. Pacific Coast people have enjoyed beauties of their own to enjoy, it would seem. The State of Illinois sent the largest quota to visit the park, 5,900 people entering from that state. Thirty people from Victoria made the trip.

NIAGARA IS DUE AT QUARANTINE AT 7 P.M. TO-MORROW

This will put the vessel into Pier 2, Rithet's, at about 8 o'clock, twelve hours ahead of her scheduled time.

Besides a fair passenger list the Niagara is bringing a large cargo from "down under."

SAYS ALLIED STATES ARE HELPING CANADA

Controversy Over Lake Michigan-Water Diversion in U.S. Supreme Court

Washington, Nov. 10 (Canadian Press)—The charge that Wisconsin and the lake states allied with it in the fight to enjoin the Chicago Sanitary District and Illinois from diverting water from Lake Michigan are in effect taking up the cause of Canada was made Monday at the hearing of the diversion controversy between Charles Evans Hughes, acting as special master for the Supreme Court of the United States.

Hugh S. Johnson, representing Attorney-General Cleggdon of Illinois, made the charge that Wisconsin and allied states were in effect playing a part for Canada. He also charged that the diversion of water was being used for the lake states as a "cloak" for their designs.

Counsel for opposing states submitted for record to-day voluminous documents prepared by army engineers, Government executive departments and other agencies which, from time to time, have had to do with the old controversy.

Newton D. Baker, chief legal adviser of the complainant states, was given the first opportunity by Mr. Hughes to put in documentary evidence in support of the injunction suit brought to prevent diversion.

Mr. Baker announced there were "several libraries full of these documents" which, if admitted for evidence, would require most of the time allotted for the proceedings.

The complainants sought to establish that the sanitary district and its predecessors, Chicago's drainage commission, had burdened the population of down state Illinois and the contiguous territory in the Mississippi basin, with polluted water, and that adequate artificial sewage disposal plants would make unnecessary withdrawal of water sufficient to constitute a burden on Great Lakes shipping.

Complainants' testimony included a letter from Secretary of State Kellogg to the British Ambassador in Washington, in which it was conceded that the actual flow through the sanitary district's locks at Lockport, Ill., averaged 9,700 cubic feet a second during 1924 and at times reached 12,000.

Secretary Kellogg's letter was in response to a representation from the British Embassy that Canada's interest in the Great Lakes level demanded the protection of the state department.

Fishery Vessel Sinks With Full Cargo of Halibut

Prince Rupert, Nov. 10—The motor fishery vessel Norco, laden with 400,000 pounds of halibut for delivery to the New England Fishing Co., Vancouver, sank at Ketchikan yesterday.

She had just left the wharf when a leak developed through the stuffing box. An attempt was made to beach her on the opposite side of the bay, but this made the situation worse, for she struck a rock, which practically ripped out her bottom. An attempt will be made to salvage the fish cargo.

The enormous rock crest of Glacier Mountain, near Alice Arm, becoming dislodged yesterday made the neighborhood think an earthquake had happened. The shock was felt for miles around. It was so severe that in several cabins dishes fell from shelves.

Seattle, Nov. 10.—W. T. Isted of Seattle, vice-president of the National Board of Steam Navigation, announced that he will offer several amendments to a codification of United States shipping laws and regulations when it is offered to Congress for approval next month by the Shipping Board.

At 1,100 tons of cargo, the Munson-McCormick intercoastal freighter Walter D. Munson is listed to arrive here to-day on her first voyage to the coast. She is a 10,000-ton vessel, loaded building materials for Florida and Cuba.

CORONER'S JURY IN VANCOUVER SAYS DRIVER RECKLESS

Vancouver, Nov. 10.—A verdict charging James D. Green, taxi driver, with recklessness, was returned by the coroner's jury at the inquest held at the city morgue yesterday on the death of Albert Larsen, fatally injured when struck by an auto here last Sunday night.

Green stands charged with manslaughter as a result of the tragedy, and was remanded for one week when arraigned before Magistrate Shaw in police court yesterday. Bail was set at $10,000, and he was released on sureties of that amount last night.

Green entered the case when Inspector George Hood head of the city police traffic department, gave evidence on the investigation and arrest of the accused driver. Inspector Hood declared Green to have made a confession in which he said he had seen a man struck by his bumper and stopped, but afterward had gone around the block. When he came back, Green is alleged to have said another car had picked up the injured man and he continued the trip he was making.

The sailings from San Francisco will be each alternating Saturday, and this with the Dollar Line around-the-world service, means a sailing for the Orient every Saturday, just as in the past.

URGES REINDEER HERD FOR ESKIMO

Capt. H. T. Munn, at Government House, Tells of Arctic's Problem

Captain Henry T. Munn, life-long friend of His Honor Robert R. Haice and a well-known figure of Canada's northern territory, is a guest at Government House. Captain Munn knew the Lieutenant-Governor when his Honor was following his profession of engineering in Western Manitoba. Since those early days both men have been close friends.

Captain Munn can boast a life filled with adventure. As a frontiersman he faced the hardships of the wilderness. In the Arctic, the Yukon and in the wilds of Northern Ontario he was known. To-day Captain Munn is urging the Canadian Government to introduce into the Canadian Arctic reindeer herds which thrive in Alaska. This, he says, would prove a profitable enterprise.

Having spent eleven years among the Eskimos as a trader, Captain Munn is familiar with the habits, conditions and customs of the race. They have their need of food and clothing. It has been on long trips into the interior, when Eskimos used the white man's food, that caused their decimation. These trips they made for the trader, and although the bargains made were suitable enough, their contact with civilization actually proved the undoing of the Eskimo hunters. The primitive people of the Far North wastes, he says, deteriorate fast when touched by the civilization of the South.

Captain Munn knows reindeer as he does Eskimos. He realizes what might be accomplished in a few years were a herd of the animals transferred to the Arctic. Since the wild caribou has gone from the land and the seals have become depleted in numbers, there is immediate need of a natural food supply for the Arctic, says this old trader.

He asserts that the reindeer is the logical animal to place at the disposal of the Eskimo. Such a herd as he suggests would feed and clothe the Eskimo people and make them a contented race. The reindeer is the only animal which can survive the rigors of the northern climate, except the wild caribou, which has almost become extinct.

Two Bankers Figure In Shooting Affray

Detroit Lakes, Minn., Nov. 10.—Two bankers were in a serious condition here today as the result of bullet wounds received in an undetermined manner at a bank at Callaway, seventeen miles north of here, yesterday.

W. J. Murphy, president of the Citizens State Bank of Callaway, and W. J. Norby, former president of the First National Bank at Lake Park, were brought to the community hospital here after they had been found by a bank employee with bullet wounds in their heads. The shooting was done after a girl stenographer had left the bank for lunch at about noon. She returned at 1:30 p.m. and found the men on the floor of the bank in a semi-conscious condition.

Since the closing of the First National Bank at Lake Park, Norby had been employed as a collector for the Callaway bank. Sheriff Ed Swanson of Brecker County and other village and county officials refused to advance any theory as to the shooting. A hurried check of the bank indicated no cash was missing, and it was held improbable that the men may have been shot by bandits.

The revolver used as a weapon is kept in the bank. It is a .32-calibre gun.

Y.M.C.A. Leaders Will Hold Their 1927 Parley Here

Victoria will be the scene of the 1927 Pacific Northwest Y.M.C.A. Leaders' Conference, it was learned yesterday on the return of the local delegates from the recent conference at Portland. Over 200 young men will assemble here for discussions, it is stated.

At the Portland conference held on November 5 and 6 the mornings were given over to business discussions. During the afternoon the visiting delegates were taken for drives over the highway. On Saturday, the last day of the conference, a banquet was held, and each corps staged a supper stunt for the entertainment of "rest." Victoria's representatives at the conference were: A. McKinnon, physical director of the Y.M.C.A.; Sam Hill, Norman Collins, Cyril Tomlinson and Phil Rose.

MEXICAN SENATOR KILLED BY ANOTHER MEMBER OF SENATE

Mexico City, Nov. 10.—Senator Charles Henshaw last night shot and killed Senator Espinoza in a fight with pistols in the Senate lobby. Henshaw himself was fatally wounded.

The shooting was done immediately after the Senate had adjourned. During the session Henshaw had adversely criticized Secretary of State Rocha. Rocha challenged him to a fight outside the Chamber and Henshaw "accepted the defy."

When the two men met in the lobby Henshaw opened fire upon Rocha. Senator Espinoza went to the defence of Rocha and he and Henshaw began firing at each other. During the exchange Espinoza was killed and Henshaw received wounds which probably will result in his death.

Tenders for material accepted by the City Council last night, on the recommendation of the water committee, included sheet lead from Alcock, Downing & Wright, $128.50; wheels, chains, etc., from Canadian Fairbanks Morse Company, $841.55; steel bands from Pacific Coast Pipe Company, $253.30; and boom stick and incidental lumber from Shawinigan Lake Lumber Company, $142.

Beauty & Health . . . the forfeits.

Pyorrhea's victims are 4 out of 5

A ruthless enemy that gives no quarter is Pyorrhea. Its poisons sweep through the system, undermining health and often causing such serious diseases as rheumatism and neuritis, appendicitis, ulcers, stomach troubles and nervousness.

Four out of five past 40, and thousands younger, pay this heavy toll. But you need not fear these uneven odds.

Go to your dentist at least twice a year. And start using Forhan's for the gums, today. This dentifrice, the formula of R. J. Forhan, D.D.S., prevents Pyorrhea or checks its course.

It keeps gum tissue firm and healthy. It protects teeth against acids which cause decay and keeps them white. Use Forhan's regularly, morning and night. Teach your children this good habit.

Forhan's contains Forhan's Pyorrhea Liquid used by dentists everywhere. It is health-insurance. At all drug-gists—in tubes, 35c and 60c.

No tell-tale Odor

Forhan's Antiseptic, a new product, most powerful, safe antiseptic mouthwash known, is odorless. It keeps you safe from whispering tongues. Pleasant, refreshing. Try it and you'll always use it.

cepted by City

New Grandstand in Amphitheatre at Beacon Hill to Be Built

The new Kiwanis wading pool, destined for construction at Central Park, will be larger than the first one constructed at Beacon Hill, and one of the largest on the Pacific Coast. It developed at the regular session of the City Council last night. The pool is to be forty feet by ninety feet, and will cost in the neighborhood of $1,700. The city has voted $1,000 towards the cost of the work; $700 and the labor involved is the share of the club men in their new effort on behalf of the kiddies of the city.

NEW GRANDSTAND

The appropriation was made at the request of the parks committee. The same committee also secured passage of a recommendation that the new grandstand at Beacon Hill be proceeded with, tenders to be called for the erection of the woodwork now. The city will lay the concrete base. The new stand is expected to cost in the neighborhood of $1,500. It was stated by Alderman Marchant, chairman of the committee. The site chosen is the natural amphitheatre on the lawn at the park, where trees provide shade and the natural shape of the ground aids the completion of the project.

Islands

Mayne Islands, Nov. 9.—Mr. T. Robson has been spending a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robson.

Mrs. Stewart of Galiano Island has been staying at the home of Mrs. Hall, looking after her small daughter, while Mrs. Hall spent a few days in Victoria.

Mr. J. Neill has gone to Victoria. Mr. J. Aitken paid a visit to Saturna Island.

Recent guests at Grandview Lodge were: Colonel C. Peck, V.C., M.P., of Sidney; C. McKenzie, C. Graves, E. Middlestone, S. Fox, B. Thurnau, all of Vancouver; W. Wilson; J. Jewkes, J. Barzman, D. Webster, H. Milne, V. Williams and R. Jamieson, all of Victoria.

GALIANO ISLAND

A meeting was held in the hall to elect officers for the ensuing year for the hockey team. The election took place as follows: President, Mr. Paul Soones; secretary, Captain Denroche; captain, Mr. C. Morgan and vice-captain, Mr. C. Twiss.

The following is a list of the pupils in order of merit for Galiano School:

Grade V—Barbara Twiss, Edwin Bambrick, Jack Page, Finlay Murcheson, Edwina Morgan and Fred York.

Grade III—Dorothy Patience, Angus Murcheson and Richard Morgan.

A most successful and enjoyable time was spent in Galiano Hall when Miss I. Pellet and her pupils entertained at a tea party and a musical programme. This was the first school entertainment to be held in the hall. Mrs. Lord, Mrs. Twiss, Mrs. Page, Mr. Patience and Mr. Thomas, assisted by the children, served a delicious tea. The hall had been prettily decorated with orange curtains and streamers and pumpkins, witches and black cats.

The programme was as follows: Recitation, "Hallowe'en," by Lillian Moir; an amusing comedy was then acted by Betty Lord, Ronald Page, Edwina Morgan, Barbara Twiss, Richard Morgan, Dorothy Patience and Angus Murcheson. Edwina Morgan played a piano solo.

"A Busy Day" was recited by Jack Page; a song entitled, "Kentucky Babe" was prettily sung by Betty Lord, Norah Shopland and Rosamund Murcheson. Edwina Morgan sang "Goodbye." A play chosen from the Sunday School by Post called "Loris and Jack o' Lantern" was charmingly done by Betty Lord, Norah Shopland, Nigel Morgan and Rosamund Murcheson. A reading, "Hallowe'en Surprises," was done by Finlay Murcheson. Rosamund Murcheson recited "Fortune Tellers" and Barbara Twiss, "The Golden Day." Douglas York and Nigel Morgan caused much amusement by fortune-telling. The programme ended with a chorus by the school children, "The Maple Leaf." Miss Pellet acted as accompanist and Mr. Shopland was an efficient chairman. Besides the parents of the children the following visitors were present, Mrs. Zaia, Mrs. Gilmour, Mrs. New, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Bellhouse, Mrs. Kingsmill and Bootle, Mr. and Mrs. Patience, Mr. and Mrs. E. Soones and family, Mrs. Stewart Donald, Miss B. Georgeson and Miss Faulkner.

Mackie, "The Gowans," Goldstream Road, on Thursday afternoon, November 11, from 3 to 5.30 o'clock. A splendid musical programme has been arranged. The proceeds will go towards the poppy fund for disabled soldiers.

Brentwood

Brentwood, Nov. 10.—A former resident of Saanich, Mr. Frank Freeland, and his bride, of Portland, Oregon, who have been visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Freeland, Stelly Cross Road, were the guests of honor at a party given by friends in the Institute Hall on Thursday evening. An enjoyable time was spent in games and music and a dainty supper was served from a table prettily decorated in pink chrysanthemums. The health of the young couple was proposed by Mr. Harry Tanner and suitably responded to. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Sluggitt, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Sluggitt, Mrs. Loran Thomson, Miss Madeleine Sluggitt, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Thomson, Mr. and Mrs. Haddon, Miss Ruby Haddon, Shirley Sluggitt, Miss Hilda Maher, Mr. and Mrs. E. Sidwell, S. Sidwell, Ed. Freeland. Mr. and Mrs. Freeland returned to their home in Portland on Sunday.

At the West Road Hall on Friday night the first basketball games of the winter season took place. Honors were evenly divided, the Y.M.C.A. team, composed of H. King, G. McCann, S. Jackson, W. Eason, H. Millick, won from the Saanich players, who were H. Tubman, T. Pedra, J. Lennon, R. Mitchell and P. Lennon by a score of 46 to 33. In the intermediate game the local players were J. Brooks, T. Pedra, M. Rice, H. Tubman, W. Anderson, the Y.M.C.A. line-up being G. Cameron, T. Darbyshire, C. Cummins, J. Rowlands and B. Nev, the score being 25 to 25 in favor of the Saanich team. Ned Richardson made a satisfactory referee. Dancing followed the game, the music being provided by Harry Eastlin's splendid three-piece orchestra, and refreshments were served by the committee in charge.

Next Friday night the Grays from First Presbyterian will play the locals and a ladies' team from the same place will meet the newly-formed Saanich ladies' team. This will be the first game played by ladies in the district, and is creating much interest. The usual dance and refreshments will follow the games.

The Brentwood Concert Company entertained at a very successful card party and social evening on Saturday in the Institute Hall. Military five hundred was played and the first prizes were won by Mrs. J. Osborne, Miss Gladys Guy, Bert Fox and C. Atkins with thirty flags. Miss Edna Butler, Miss Phyllis Maher, E. Gosnell and A. Guy were a close second, with twenty-nine flags. The unlucky thirteen flags won the consolation for Mrs. E. Sidwell, Mrs. Laconsiere, Ned Richardson and R. J. Freeland. The high bid, ten no trump, was won by Mrs. T. Walker, and the handsome tray given as a trophy went to Mrs. A. Guy. Refreshments were served by the ladies' committee. A short programme followed, which was much enjoyed. "Miser's Song," T. Haddon; recitation, Mrs. H. A. Blakey; song, "Love's Old Sweet Song," Mr. Kennedy; song, W. McKay. Dancing occupied the rest of the evening, the music being supplied by Mrs. McLeod and H. Rochon. Mr. W. O. Wallace, the president, made a capable chairman.

Mr. and Mrs. Watson, of Esquimalt, and Mrs. Overton, of Elk Lake, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. Atkins, Marchant Road, over the week-end.

Mr. J. Williamson, of Marpole, has arrived on a visit to his sister, Mrs. T. Pedra, Verdier Avenue.

THE REAL STRENGTH BUILDER

Montreal, Nov. 10.—When police forced their way into the home of Alvaro Lauzon, forty-one, here yesterday to arrest him on a charge of assaulting his wife, they found him dead from gas asphyxiation. The man had closed the doors and windows and turned on the gas stove.

Women Drivers Notice the Difference

THE greater driving ease that Imperial Ethyl Gasoline gives is something which women drivers immediately recognize.

With this new type of "cold weather" gasoline, there is no trying ordeal about starting. It is immediately responsive to the touch. In congested traffic, gear-shifting is minimized to the lowest possible limit. On difficult hills the nerve-racking "second-gear" grind is abolished. In any car, under every driving condition, engine knocks are absolutely eliminated.

Imperial Ethyl is a very special grade of quick-starting gasoline with Ethyl Brand of Anti-Knock Compound added. It gives you this unique combination of gasoline qualities with no sacrifice of mileage.

The Ethyl Compound, developed in the Research Laboratories of General Motors, adds the power qualities that make this gasoline "different."

There's only one way to find out how good Imperial Ethyl is. Try it. You'll agree that its worth the 4c. more per gallon we ask for it.

EVEN ON HOLIDAYS

Everybody knows the story of the cabman who, finally having secured a day off, spent it driving around town with a brother cabby. There is more truth than fantasy to this joke. Take for instance, some of the well known motion picture personalities.

Ben Lyon got one day off, off white Robert Kane was making First National's "The Reckless Lady," all this week at the Playhouse, and Ben spent that day under the glare of the studio lights watching Belle Bennett, Lois Moran, Lowell Sherman and James Kirkwood enacting scenes for the same picture. Kirkwood did the same thing. He had several days off during the filming of "The Reckless Lady." All but one were spent on the set in the studio.

And there was many a day when Director Howard Higgin had as his guest Director Alfred Santell who, during the taking of Higgin's picture, was preparing preliminary work on "The Dancer of Paris," another Kane production. The motion picture studio holds a lure that few who know it intimately can resist.

JANNINGS, KNOWN AS
EUROPE'S BEST ACTOR, BORN AN AMERICAN

Although he is known as Europe's greatest actor—but he's not. Emil Jannings was born in New York. The star of "Passion," "The Last Laugh," "The Great Dictator" and a score of other spectacles, belongs to America as much as Richard Dix, Tom Meighan or any of the others. And now—after many years, Jannings is coming to the land of his birth. Paramount is bringing him to the United States to star in Paramount pictures. In the meantime, they are releasing his latest Ufa production, "Variety," in which he is featured with Lya de Putti.

According to stories which have come across the seas, not even in any of the films mentioned above has Jannings played such a role. He is seen as giant Boss, foremost acrobat of the world. It is a part that's said to eclipse all the rest.

"Variety" plays at the Capitol all this week. You're advised not to miss it.

CHARLIE MURRAY AND BEN TURPIN APPEAR IN COLUMBIA CAST

Not since the inception of the motion picture industry has any production come to the screen with so much dramatic action and wholesome comedy, as are seen in "Steel Preferred," a Metropolitan picture which is on view at the Columbia theatre to-day.

The story deals with a young steel worker who, despite great handicaps, forges to the front and not only wins promotion but the love of the daughter of his employer. Drama and genuine comedy abound, the latter being supplied by such screen comedians as Charlie Murray and Ben Turpin. Many of their scenes are in the verbiage of a "scrum."

William Boyd, Vera Reynolds, Hobart Bosworth, Helene Sullivan, Walter Long and Nigel Barrie have the dramatic roles, while Charlie Murray, William V. Mong and Ben Turpin have the comedy roles. Aside from the comedy the dramatic highlights of the picture are innovations in motion picture thrills.

"PEG O' MY HEART"

AT COLISEUM IS ONE LAUGH AFTER ANOTHER

Little Irish "Peg o' My Heart," Gertrude Burton, considers it a big joke when the very English mother "Angie" (Betty), suggests a marriage with her son Alaric (Jack Cassidy), for she has a mind of her own as well as $5,000 a year. "Peg o' My Heart" is just one delightful laugh right through, and the bill is one of the best Ed. Redmond has ever offered Coliseum patrons. To-night is "bargain night," postponed from Monday.

KING'S TRAIN TOURED ROYAL HIGHWAY FOR DOMINION PRODUCTION

El Camino Real (The Royal Road), the magnificent highway that threads California for a thousand miles, has been traversed by a king's train at last.

Centuries after the plodding padree broke the trail they intended for royal usage its purpose has been fulfilled, in a manner, and as strange a procession as ever this ancient thoroughfare has witnessed—a king's train with the gilded coaches, the caparisoned escort of mounted attendants, has moved over the historical road.

But the incongruity of it was that this royal train didn't move over the highway on its own wheels, nor did the horses travel on their own feet. The entire king's train, an authentic reproduction of the train of King Louis XIII, was taken by motor transport from the Metro-Goldwyn.

ONE IN TEN DIES FROM CANCER

In civilized countries, one in ten deaths after forty is due to cancer, and the rate increases yearly, a terrifying tribute we pay to the God of Un-natural Food. Simple races eating natural foods have no cancer, tuberculosis, flu, pneumonia, appendicitis or other terrifying disease. Such races grow large, live long, and die only of old age or accident.

By eating natural foods, one may avoid most diseases, even colds, the starting point of so many serious diseases. Dr. Robert G. Jackson has not had even a cold since 1912, while previously he suffered constantly from colds. Living largely upon natural foods, such as fruits, vegetables, Roman Meal, milk, has kept him free from every form of sickness, by making normal blood. His dietary will do the same for you.

Dr. Jackson is dietetic editor, "Archives of Therapeutics," New York, a physician's journal; advisor to "Defensive Diet League," a physicians' association. Send for his free booklet, "How to Keep Well," to Robert G. Jackson, M.D., 247 Vine Ave., Toronto, (9) Ont. (Adv.)

ENGLISH STAR OPENS
AT ROYAL THURSDAY

Matheson Lang Has Won Highest Praise on Continental Tour

When Matheson Lang, the popular English star, resumed his transcontinental tour at Winnipeg after a brief lay-off due to a slight illness, he opened his western campaign with the capitulation of the prairie metropolis scoring the same sort of a hit that he had already made in Toronto, Montreal, Ottawa and other eastern cities. The following is an excerpt from the review in The Winnipeg Free Press of Mr. Lang's opening performance in that city:

"So Matheson Lang is called on to portray a character that grows not a day older as it travels down the centuries, seeking solace for his sufferings, forgiveness for his sin. We see that character in four epochs, in four distinct personalities, in the dominant traits of the original character pervade, and are visible in all. First, he is the Jew who scorns the Nazarene; then he is an Un-known Knight, who in a lustful triumph, through the lusts of Antioch, in the days of the first Crusade, then a wealthy merchant of Fairport, in the thirteenth century, and finally as a doctor, a servant of humanity, during the might and arrogance of the Spanish Inquisition of Seville, Spain. All this has been seen would one seek to gain the full significance of its beautiful, its tremendous appeal. How reverently is the first episode handled! So reverently indeed that no word of protest has ever been raised by any denomination or any race."

From the historical viewpoint of Matheson Lang's delineations are very sharply and clearly drawn, and constitute a careful portrait, and his deportment, his general mien, his deep, resonant voice, his patent, though sternly repressed earnestness, must command the commendation, the admiration of all. Not readily will the great scene before the Inquisitors fade from the memory, and in the final moments, when the peace of the Christ of Calvary flashes down in a ray of effulgence on the humble and purged and penitent Matthias, amid the Inquisition's tormenting flames, the essence of the play's lesson strikes hard at the hearts of the spectators. The star was called before the curtain seven or eight times at the close of the play. Three ladies bought Matheson Lang in the various phases of the story. Miss Hutton Britton, in the first act, plays the dying Judith in a manner that carries conviction, and in the third carries an inspiring presentation of quiet and unflinching faith. Miss Winnifred Isard is Joanne de Beau-dricourt in the second phase, and Miss May Ward is Orlana in the fourth.

Mr. Lang's engagement in this city is for three days only commencing Thursday, November 11.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

Winnipeg, Nov. 10.—After a day of dull trading, with sale volume extremely light, the wheat market closed $1\frac{1}{4}$ to $1\frac{1}{2}$ lower. Fair resistance against the declines was offered by commission house, buying early in the session, but this was not maintained. There was a little export business working, but the volume was insignificant and had little effect.

Steadiness at Liverpool was a factor in the slow trade here today, and caused a lull in the aggressive buying which featured Tuesday's session.

The Canadian movement of wheat continues large and there were rumors of embargoes being placed on further shipments to bay ports and on rail shipments out of Buffalo, due to eastern terminals having reached capacity owing to the small clearances from Atlantic seaboard. The rumors, however, could not be confirmed.

The close was weak; November 143½, December 139½, May 143¾, July 142¼.

Oats and barley declined sharply to-day, with a poor demand existing and exporters reporting re-selling. The rye market was firm and a better export trade was reported. The flax market was weak and demand only moderate.

The lower grades of cash wheat were in good demand from shippers to-day and prices improved ¼ to 1 cent, but other grades were neglected, while the cash coarse grains experienced a featureless session.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, Nov. 10 (By R. P. Clark and Co.)—Wheat: The market opened firm this morning but trade was very light and outside of a little commission-house buying there was little of anything going on. After the first hour local buyers had been pretty consistently bullish, commenced liquidating and prices gradually eased off, finally closing at the bottom and showing losses of 1-1-4 to 1-1-2 for the day. The market was only on the edge of the decline but the undertone was heavy. There was a little export business but the volume was quite small. There were reports of embargoes

Chicago, Nov. 10 (By R. P. Clark and Co.)—Wheat: Developed a weak undertone in a slow trade and sagged steadily throughout, reaching lowest levels near the last. Better weather and crop reports from the Argentine and Australia claim that a very small percentage of the new Canadian crop has cleared to date were factors in the selling. Winnipeg held relatively steady compared with Chicago, however. A private authority about to be placed against further increases in the price of wheat. The rail shipments out of Buffalo due to eastern terminals being filled to the roofs and the small clearances from the Atlantic seaboard. The Liverpool market was steady, closely to the London market and had the effect of checking the aggressive buying that was in evidence Tuesday. The Canadian movement of wheat continues heavy and exports are disappointing. There are not many prospects in the market owing to fears of damage to Argentina and Australia. In cash market there was little doing and for the lower grades 40-day, and prices in Canada so far this year total 181,000,000 bushels, out of which amounting 68,000,000 bushels have disappeared. It was intimated that the carryover at the end of the year was 900,000 bushels, so that the deduction was that but 32,000,000 of the new crop has actually left that country. Export business to-day was reported as moderate. It is noted that the Winnipeg pit may or may not reflect business under cover. The world's available supply of wheat at the end of the week increased 11,250,000 bushels, and the supply of wheat and flour for the week increased 11,250,000 bushels. The carryover of 900,000 bushels increase last week, and a gain of 142,000 bushels a year.

Winnipeg, Nov. 10 (By B.C. Bond Corporation's Direct Pip Wire)—The wheat market opened higher and very light trade. Outside interest was lacking throughout the session and the market turned weak at mid-session, gradually easing and closing on the low for the day with a fair amount of selling by tired holders. The continued lack of extensive export business and the fact that Argentine markets were lower than here, was another factor in the decline. Stocks at Minneapolis for four days increased 150,000 bushels. The market at Chicago was closed at midday, and that market is closed to-morrow. The market is likely to prove erratic until further developments and a trading position seems best.

Chicago, Nov. 10 (By B.C. Bond Corporation's Direct Pip Wire)—Wheat market unsettled within narrow limits. Selling concentrated on scattered buying only to work lower on selling by houses with eastern connections. Aggregate trade was small with a growing tendency to "grabbing" rather than "trading" in the market.

of damage was responsible for the liquidation. Deliveries through clearing house 148,000 but the November met good support around 30¢ above prices.

The world's visible showed an increase of 11,000,000 of which 6,000,000 is in Canada. Broomhall reported the weather was generally favorable for harvesting has already commenced in the northern districts.

Private advices late in the day indicated that the settlement of the coal strike will be of little matter, and this may have been responsible for some of the late selling.

Country marketings continue heavy but the Government report due at 2 p.m. to-

New York, Nov. 10.—B. C. A SERIAL STORY

"The Unwilling Adventuress"

By MILDRED BARBOUR

"Then I can only ask you to pardon me for my presumption. And now I will be on with the favor I came to ask of you. It happens that my family is staying at a chateau that my father owns, a short distance from Paris. They will sail next week for America, he was speaking hurriedly. For some reason known only to them, they wish to see you—perhaps to assure themselves that our widely-heralded divorce was really the mutually friendly affair that I claimed it was. They became very fond of you, Doris, at Cannes; they hear no rancor. Before they return to America, they wish to know that you are happy, well-cared for. Will you drive there to-day to say goodbye?"

She stared at him in astonishment. "Oh, I couldn't. Why is it ridiculous to think of?"

He paid no heed to her words, going on with his plea. "It will be positively the last flicker of the old episode, I promise you. A sort of ave-atque vale," he smiled without mirth, "which will end everything, leaving a pleasant flavor. Won't you be a splendid little sport just for once?"

His eyes held hers for a moment. "You don't think I like asking favors of you, do you?" he said quietly.

Doris hesitated. It seemed to her that some force outside herself was compelling her assent.

CHAPTER LIII.

The moment after she had agreed to go, with Hartley to bid goodbye to his family before they sailed for America, Doris regretted her decision.

While she changed into a traveling frock and wrapped a motor veil around her snatched hat, she was twice on the point of telling him that she would not go. The whole project seemed farcical, unreal. And yet, she liked his family—the good old financier whose regard she had won, the sentimental Aunt Emily the well-meaning and hypocritical Uncle Howard. They had all been sweet to her at Cannes. They had trusted her, even while she "ransacked" their old-fashioned standards as to the conduct of a "bride."

If they really wanted to see her, why not humor them, why not, as Hartley said, finish the whole episode in a manner that left a pleasant flavor.

Doris sighed as she drew on her gloves. That was the whole trouble with herself, she thought. She loved peace and pleasantness so much that she sacrificed self even scruples, to secure them. She was, she told herself, a weak creature who couldn't say "No" for fear of being disagreeable. That faculty was the source of all her troubles, all the near-accidental situations in which she found herself involved.

She started down the stairs. On the first landing, she stopped, her heart leaping almost into her throat. Over the balustrade, she saw, ascending the first flight, the man whom Count Romeo had told her was a secret service agent, appointed to keep her under surveillance.

She shrank back instinctively, glanced furtively around, and then slipped hastily into a shadowy, little recess that led to an inner fire escape. The man, quiet, distinguished, apparently quite unaware of her presence, continued his way upward. Doris waited until he was out of sight and then sped down the remaining stairs as if a bloodhound were after her.

Was he going to her apartment to arrest her, she wondered in panic? Hartley was bending over the lifted bonnet of a long, low racing car, examining his oil gauge.

"Oh do let's hurry!" urged Doris breathlessly. His lifted brows showed his surprise. Evidently he had not seen the man who had passed into her apartment building. He tucked her carefully into the seat beside him, wrapping a rug about her knees, though the day was oppressively grey and warm for the season. There was a hint of storm in the air.

"You're awfully generous to come with me," he said as they started off, and then relapsed into silence while they threaded the maze of Paris traffic and finally left the city behind and struck off into the open country. After a time, they turned off the pleasant, smooth, motor road, and began to climb into a less thickly populated area. The lowering clouds pressed down, grey and menacing. The meandering, little river,

McCoy's Cod Liver Extract Tablets Fine For Thin Underdeveloped Kids

Children Love Them Because They Are Sugar Coated and as Easy to Take as Candy

It's your duty, Mother, to see that the frail, peevish, willful youngster grows up to be strong in body, keen in mind and robust in health. Extracted from the livers of the lowly codfish are the health, weight and strength-producing vitamins that are found in McCoy's Cod Liver Extract Tablets, which are sold by pharmacists all over North and South America.

Doctors' know about them, and so does Vancouver Drug Co., MacFarlane Drug Co. and Owl Drug Co. and if your children need building up ask for these tablets to-day if you want to give your child a good appetite and put pounds of good healthy flesh on their bones. But be sure and get McCoy's.

They are not expensive—40 tablets—40 cents and if you are not pleased with the improvement after 30 days—your money back.

A very sickly child, aged 9, gained 12 pounds in seven months and is strong and healthy.

One skinny woman gained 9 pounds (Adv.)

beside which they journeyed for awhile, was sullen and slate-like. They flashed through village after village, straggling against a hill slope. At one of these, they stopped for luncheon. Hartley ate little and he smoked incessantly. Doris' polite way to uneasiness which she couldn't quite analyze. She had grown accustomed to his frowns, his amused attitude, which she couldn't name, subtly disturbed her. He reminded her a little of Ivan Ivanoff, in his intense moments.

And yet she was confident that he disliked and disapproved of her. Just as she believed she disliked and disapproved of him. It wasn't for his sake she was making this absurd and sentimental journey. It was for his family, who had been kind to her and must not be disappointed.

Doris moved restlessly in the comfortable seat. "I don't call this a few hours motor trip," she remarked. "We've been traveling since morning and now it will soon be dark. Even with the briefest visit, we'll never get back to Paris before midnight."

She was staring at his profile and she noticed the fleeting half smile that touched his handsome mouth. "Paris to-night is quite out of the question," he said calmly. "Very soon we're going to strike a road that I wouldn't drive over in the dark for a million dollars. The family will put up for the night."

Doris checked a dismayed exclamation. This was indeed more than she had bargained for.

"You should have told me," she was beginning with dignity, when with a little sigh she relapsed into silence.

Once again, she told herself what a weak, silly creature she was. Any sensible girl would have ascertained how far away the Hartley chateau actually was before she consented to the drive. But Doris, admitted with a troubled sigh, it was just like herself to dash blindly into a situation which was sure to prove embarrassing.

Paying a brief visit—staying perhaps to tea or dinner—with Hartley's family by way of a graceful farewell gesture, was quite another thing from putting up overnight under the roof of people whose son you have supposedly just divorced.

She stole a glance at his profile. He drove with eyes straight ahead, lips firmly closed, a trifle grim. It was a handsome profile, clean-cut, strong.

Doris thought fleetingly of Count Romeo's profile. It was not his best feature. His forehead sloped too sharply backward and his chin retreated toward his collar beneath a too-full red underlip. But the close-clipped dark mustache on his upper lip gave him great distinction when one looked at him full face.

The twilight settled down and Doris began to dream as travelers do during the monotonous hours after the darkness obscures the way-side, sighs.

She came to earth and reality with the dismaying discovery that her dream went something like this:

By HOWARD R. GARIS

Jackie and Peetle Bow Wow were two little puppy dogs. Nearly every day they were quite good, minding their father and mother, going to the Hollow Stump School, where they recited their lessons to the Lady Mouse Teacher, or chasing their tails, which is fine exercise for puppy dogs.

But one day Jackie saw his father's slippers neatly placed under the easy chair where Mr. Bow Wow

"Oh, you naughty little puppy dogs!"

might find them when he came home in the evening, and seeing the slippers gave Jackie an idea.

"Say, Peetle!" softly whined Jackie. "I can chew a hole in one of daddy's slippers quicker than you can!"

"No, you can't!" barked Peetle. "Yes, I can! I'll show you!" and at once Jackie began to chew on the toe of his father's left new slipper. Having very sharp teeth Jackie soon put a hole in the leather. "Let's see you do that!" cried Jackie to Peetle.

"Pooh! That's easy!" whined Peetle, and he began to gnaw a hole in his father's right paw slipper. Now it would not have been quite so bad if Peetle had chewed on the same slipper that Jackie tried his teeth on. But no. That wouldn't do. Peetle must have a slipper all to himself. Well, the result was that both slippers soon had holes and when Peetle finished his he held it up to his brother, saying:

"There! My hole's bigger'n what yours is!"

"I can gnaw mine bigger!" barked Jackie.

But just then their mother came along, on her way to go out to the store, and she saw what had happened, and she heard what Jackie said, and Mrs. Bow Wow barked: "Oh, you naughty little puppy dogs! Gnawing holes in your father's best slippers! You must be punished for this! Into the cubby hole you go, both of you!" And she put them in the cubby hole and shut the door saying:

"You must stay there until I come back from the store."

Now the cubby hole in the Bow Wow kennel house was a small dark closet beneath the stairs. It was a place for rubbers and umbrellas, and though there was nothing very scary about it still it was not a very nice place to stay. But then what Jackie and Peetle had done wasn't nice, either.

So the puppy dogs were shut in the cubby hole, and their mother went to the store. On the way she met Mrs. Twinstail, the fat lady pig, and Mrs. Bow Wow spoke of how she had to punish her little boys.

"I should think they would come out when you are away," grunted fat Mrs. Twinstail.

"Oh, no, Jackie and Peetle are good that way," barked their mother. "They always do as I tell them."

So it happened that, a little later, when Uncle Wiggily happened to stop at the dog-kennel, on his way to find an adventure, he saw no one at home, as he supposed.

"Well, well!" exclaimed the rabbit gentleman, twinkling his pink nose. "Everybody has gone out. Nobody here!"

"Oh, yes, Uncle Wiggily! We are here!" barked Jackie and Peetle.

"My goodness! Where are you?" called the bunny.

"In the cubby hole!" whined Peetle.

"Mother shut us up in it for chewing holes in daddy's slippers," barked Jackie. "We can't come out until mother comes home, but you can come in the cubby hole if you like, Uncle Wiggily."

"And I wish you would please like," begged Peetle, "for then you could tell us stories in the dark and it wouldn't seem so long."

"All right, I'll come in the cubby hole with you!" said the rabbit.

"There are some rubber boots here for you to sit on," said Jackie.

"So Uncle Wiggily sat on the rubber boots in the dark cubby hole and told the little puppy dogs stories until their mother came home and opened the door."

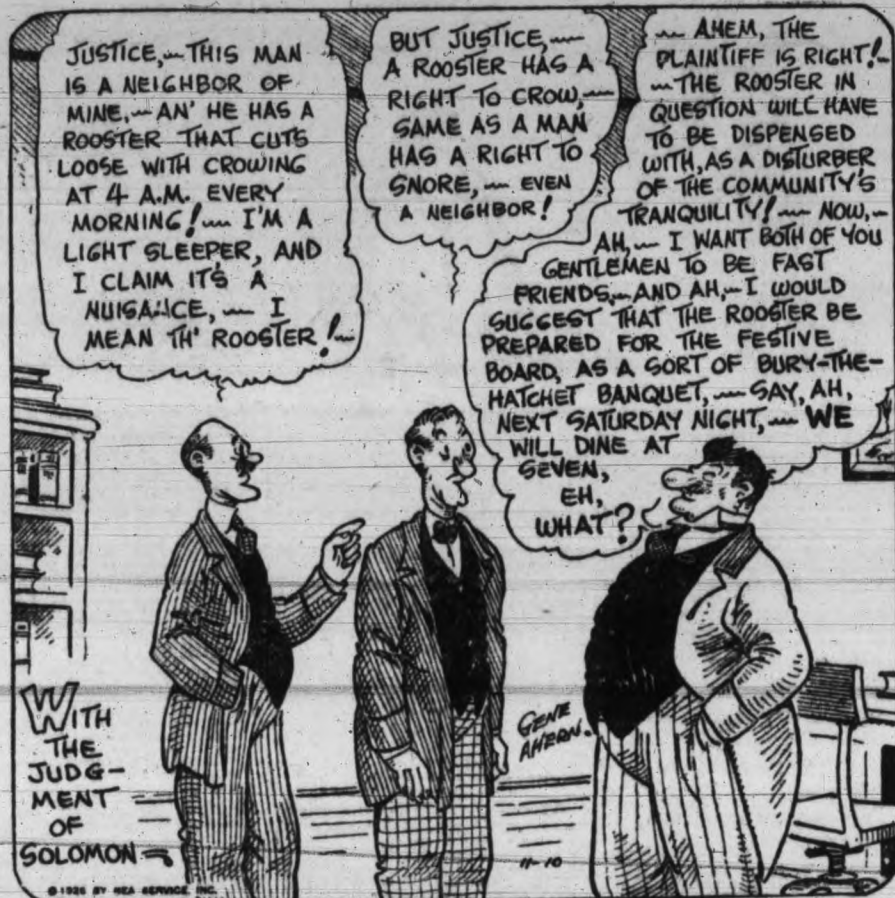

"Dear me! This is very queer!" laughed Mrs. Bow Wow when she saw Uncle Wiggily with Jackie and Peetle. "I only shut two up in the cubby hole, but three come out."

"And we're never going to gnaw any more holes in slippers," promised Jackie and Peetle. "Uncle Wiggily told us not to." So it all happened for the best, you see. And if the piece of cheese doesn't jump off the table and leave the apple pie all alone with the sugar bowl, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Uncle Butter.

CITY MANAGER BY-LAW FALLS INTO DISCARD

Simple Referendum by Way of Plain Question to People Best, Rules City Council

Committee Appointed to Draft Wording of Question to be Voted on in December

Left like a leaking ship with holes punched through it from every side, the city manager by-law was abandoned by the City Council last night in favor of a simple referendum. Aldermen William Marchant, H. C. Holmes and J. B. Clearhue were detailed as a committee to draw up the wording of the actual question that will be put to the people.

The referendum will convey the sense of the question: "Are you in favor of the appointment of a city manager, who shall have sole authority to appoint, promote and dismiss all officials and employees of the city?" Council members agreed the wording could be, and will be, improved upon, but the gist of the referendum lies in the draft proposal submitted by Alderman Marchant last night.

TEST PUBLIC OPINION

Even the ardent supporters of the city manager plan on the council, Aldermen H. C. Holmes and J. L. Mara, favored the referendum method of testing public opinion on the plan as the council battled through its final committee consideration of the by-law last night. The action of the council automatically sets the by-law aside and turns the attention of the aldermen on the preparation for a referendum.

Alderman S. Woodward protested that the method by which the council achieved this result was in itself illegal, and that any referendum put to the people on that basis would be too dangerous for any council to act upon even when a vote was secured. City Solicitor Fennie, asked for a ruling, said technical safeguards ignored by the council last night, could be included when the final wording of the plan goes before the council at its next Monday session.

AGAINST CHANGE

Again last night on all questions testing the policy of a city manager form of government the council showed itself overwhelmingly against such a change in city government in Victoria. Mayor Pendray, Aldermen Woodward, Gullin, Clearhue, Shanks, Dewar, Marchant and Harvey openly declared they had no faith in the suggested innovation at this time. In accepting the Marchant recommendation that a referendum be put to the people in place of the complicated mass of phraseology contained in a by-law, Alderman Holmes, chief city manager supporter on the council, said that a simple question would be better understood and would constitute a fairer test of public opinion. If the electorate vote in favor of a manager, his status, salary and duties could be defined later, bearing in honorable remembrance the experience with the people.

$10,000 A YEAR

Alderman Marchant said he was of the opinion that the council should go on record at the same time that a city manager, if chosen, should be a British subject, have a real acquaintance of modern business methods, and be paid a salary of not greater than $10,000 a year.

In favor of the referendum plan Mayor Pendray crystallized the majority council opinion by stating he thought that the money would be better spent in a policy of port development under Roger D. Pinneo.

The wording of the referendum was finally left to the special committee, which contains one city manager adherent, one anti-manager vote, and one alderman regarded as impartial enough to prove neutral.

So ended what has been two months of almost continuous discussion before the council on the preparation of the by-law. Neglected in its dying moments, the by-law now lies on the table of the council's business, held down by a vote which says that it shall not be proceeded with "at present." If the electorate favor the referendum question the by-law will be resurrected for final overhaul.

PARKING BERTHS RUN HIGH SHOWS ZONING REPORT

Average Private Car Usurps $1,000 of City Street Property, Says Expert

Central Bus Depot and Other Recommendations Made in Report to City Council

Parked automobiles in the centre of the city are usurping a space valued at $1,000 apiece, according to J. H. Doughty-Davies, zoning engineer, temporarily engaged by the city through its industrial committee to prepare an occupancy map for zoning purposes.

Mr. Davies arrived at his calculation through a survey which showed that downtown property averages from $6 to $12 per square foot, and that a car allowance ran into $1,000 on the average. The information was laid before the City Council last night in a four-page report dealing with many allied subjects.

The zoning engineer further recommended that Pandora Avenue be regarded as the logical development of the business district of the city, so that an "L-shaped" business section would grow to relieve future congestion of traffic.

Traffic congestion now prevailing, Mr. Davies found was mainly relegated to parked cars. Of these, he reported, fifty per cent. of the curb space in the downtown area was taken up by private cars; 43.5 per cent. was vacant, and the remainder taken by commercial and rent-car traffic.

A central bus loading area was another suggestion made, to relieve the number of bus stands, and to centralise the services for the convenience of passengers. This depot should be near Pandora Avenue, reported Mr. Davies, who went into considerable detail, and covered many subjects in the course of his report. A copy of the document is to be given to each member of the council, for future discussion.

The CORNER-STONE

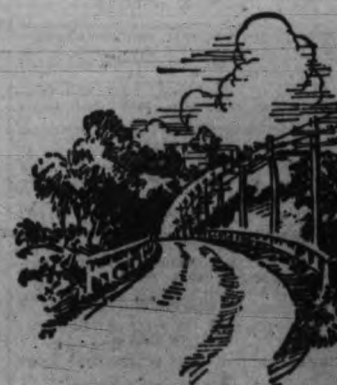

THE great office buildings of to-day would be an impossibility were it not for the telephone. Business has become so highly organized that countless communications must circulate constantly between the offices within the building and to points outside. If these offices had to depend upon messenger boys there would not be space enough for the necessary elevators to carry the messengers, to say nothing of the tenants. Without modern telephone equipment, great office buildings would be little more than mountains full of isolated caves. Thus, wherever the telephone is found, whether it be in the city, village or farm, it has become the corner-stone of business.

The Northern Electric Company, by manufacturing the telephone and telephone equipment, and the Telephone Companies in taking care of the telephone needs of to-day, are performing a necessary service in the everyday life of banker and farmer, minister and doctor, housewife and merchant throughout the Dominion.
